Time has a way of fashioning its own kaleidoscope. The pieces that once formed old and familiar patterns shift and rearrange as the months and years go by. Subtle changes occur, and patterns entirely new and unmistakable emerge.

As it is in life, so is it at Hawthorne High, where time never stands still, where patterns are ever changing. Your 1963 El Molino attempts to capture a brief look at this whirling kaleidoscope of campus activity—a look to hold forever in your hearts.

Dedicated To A

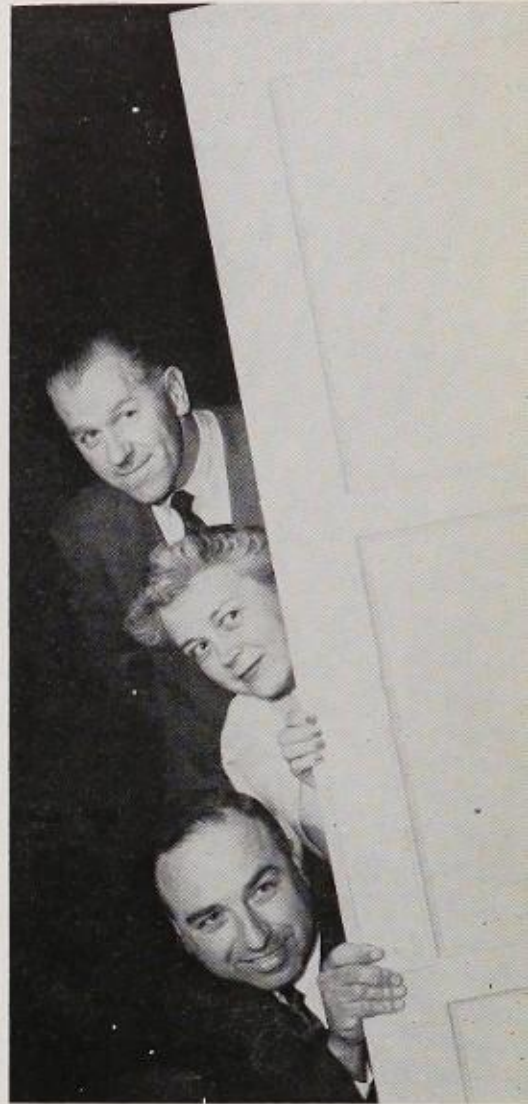

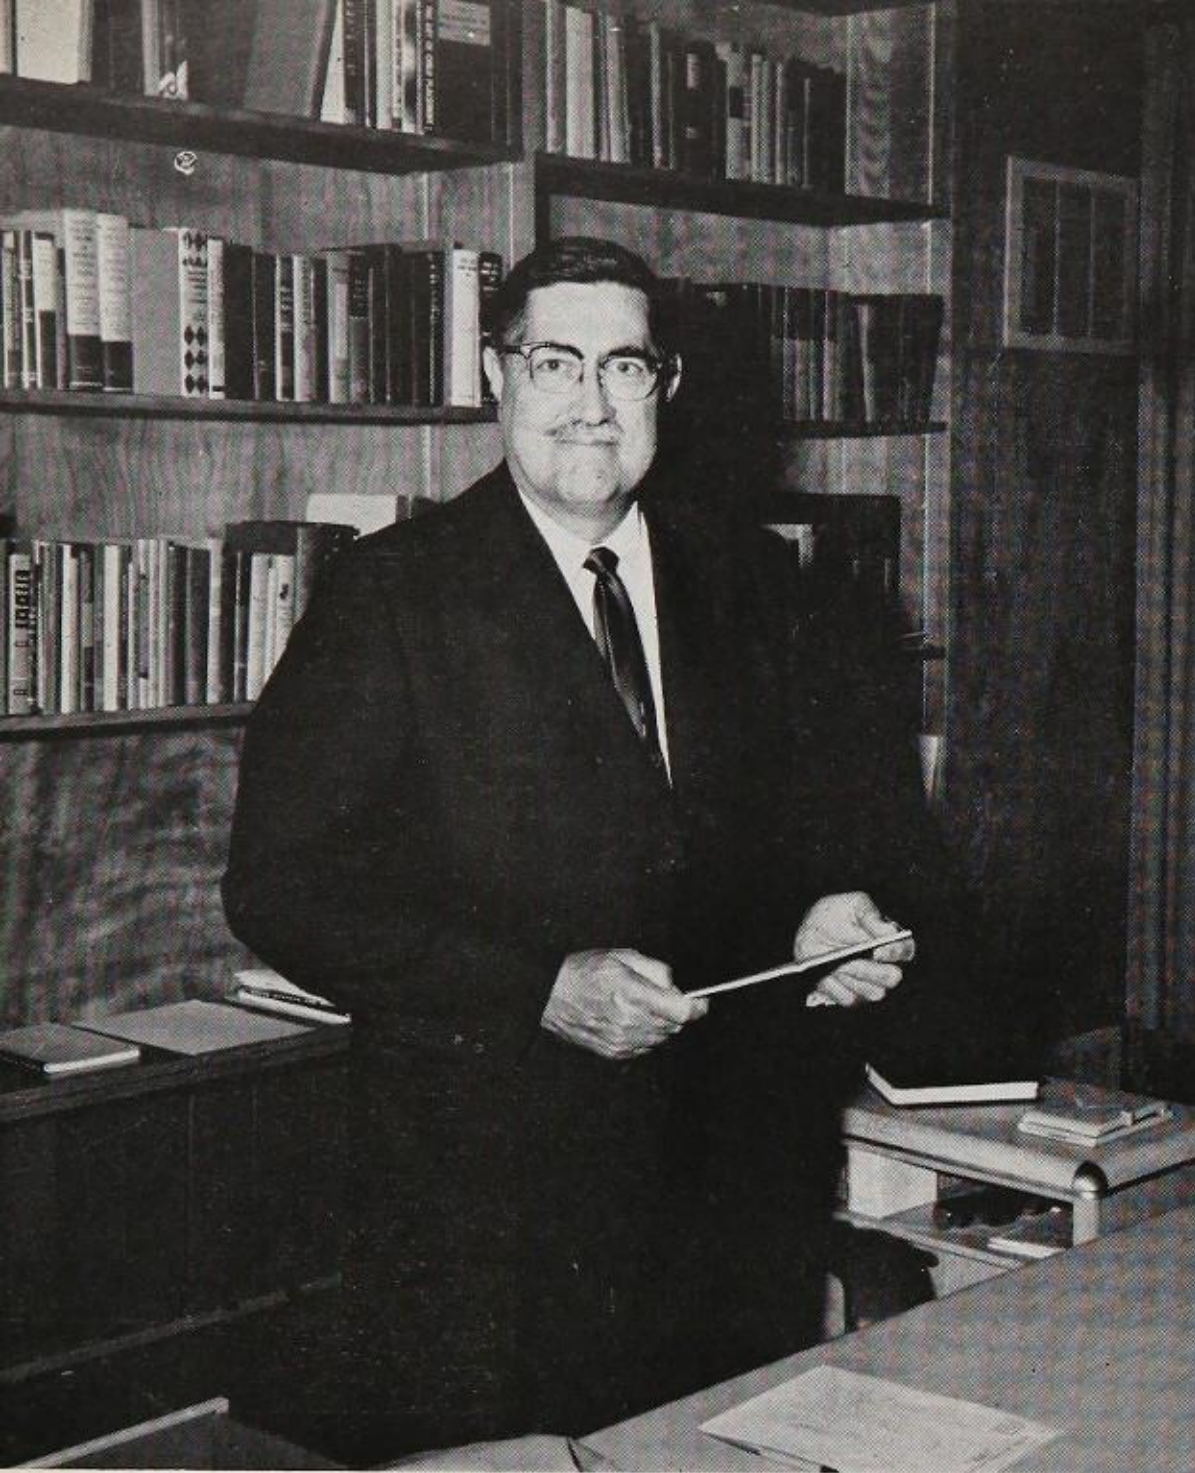

The founding of a new school is a laborious and delicate enterprise. Inevitably, one person becomes synonymous with the goals and ideals, the esprit de corps, and the energetic force behind that endeavor. During Hawthorne High School's brief, vital history, Wallace E. Nyman has become an almost legendary figure both to those who have had the good fortune to know him well and to thousands of young people who have benefited from the dedicated energy of this widely accomplished man.

Dedicated Man

Mr. Nyman's legend is not of the manufactured variety, there being little need to embellish the reality of his contribution to all of our lives. It was inevitable that a man of his stature be destined to expand his circle of services, and so Hawthorne High must bid him farewell. Our initial reaction is chagrin at being deprived of his leadership. Yet we find solace that so much of the man remains on campus still, for he leaves with us the abundant fruit of his wisdom, understanding, and vision.

Patterns in Successful

Handling the ever changing, colorful patterns of school administration is Dr. Jefferson L. Garner, our District Superintendent. A veteran of years of service with the Centinela Valley Union High School District, Dr. Garner has provided stability and continuity to a school system that has truly experienced a real "population explosion."

A lively night at the Board of Trustees meeting! Running a school district takes much time, careful thought, and thorough planning.

DR. WILLIAM R. McDONALD
Assistant Superintendent
Centinela Valley Union High School District

Leadership

Striving always for the betterment of the district, Dr. Garner and his associates handle the difficult administrative functions with the efficiency and foresight that have brought honor and prestige to the area in which we live. Hawthorne High is proud to be part of this success story.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: Mr. Herbert Bartlett, Mr. George Bradford, Mr. Guy Lively, Mr. Chester Brown, Mr. Douglas T. Robertson.

MR. HAROLD WETZLER

A sincere man with a genuine interest in young people, our new principal is a man who is firm when necessary, but he prefers to understand us and offer advice and encouragement. For him we have admiration, deep respect, and congratulations!

The rapidly turning kaleidoscope of administrative activities saw new patterns fall into place this year. At mid-term Mr. Harold Wetzler, Vice Principal in charge of Juniors, stepped into the director's chair to become principal. Behind him are the steady, efficient, and far-sighted vice principals who have helped build Hawthorne into one of the finest schools in California. We are grateful to you all.

The Senior Citizens

Looking back at the memories of three previous years, the Class of '63 finds that none can equal the senior year for the class spirit, activities, or the closeness of the class as a whole. At the beginning, they were merely classmates, but out of those relationships have grown fast friendships that will endure through the years.

This now close-knit group will soon scatter into a kaleidoscope of varying activities, occupations, and professions. But wherever they go, whatever they do, the class carries with it fond memories of fun, learning, and proud achievement. Now, from the Class of '63, "Farewell, Hawthorne High, and thanks for all you have given us."

The second semester campaign assembly saw Henry Lombardi, Steve Smith, and Cheryl Brown in a hotly contested race for senior class presidency. The campaign was held on "class dress up day" during Pep Week.

"Voo Doo by Firelight" was the theme of the Howdy Dance, sponsored by the senior class.

Four years of calling Hawthorne High School "home" have now come to a close. But what senior can ever forget the best year of all—that wonderful year of 1963!

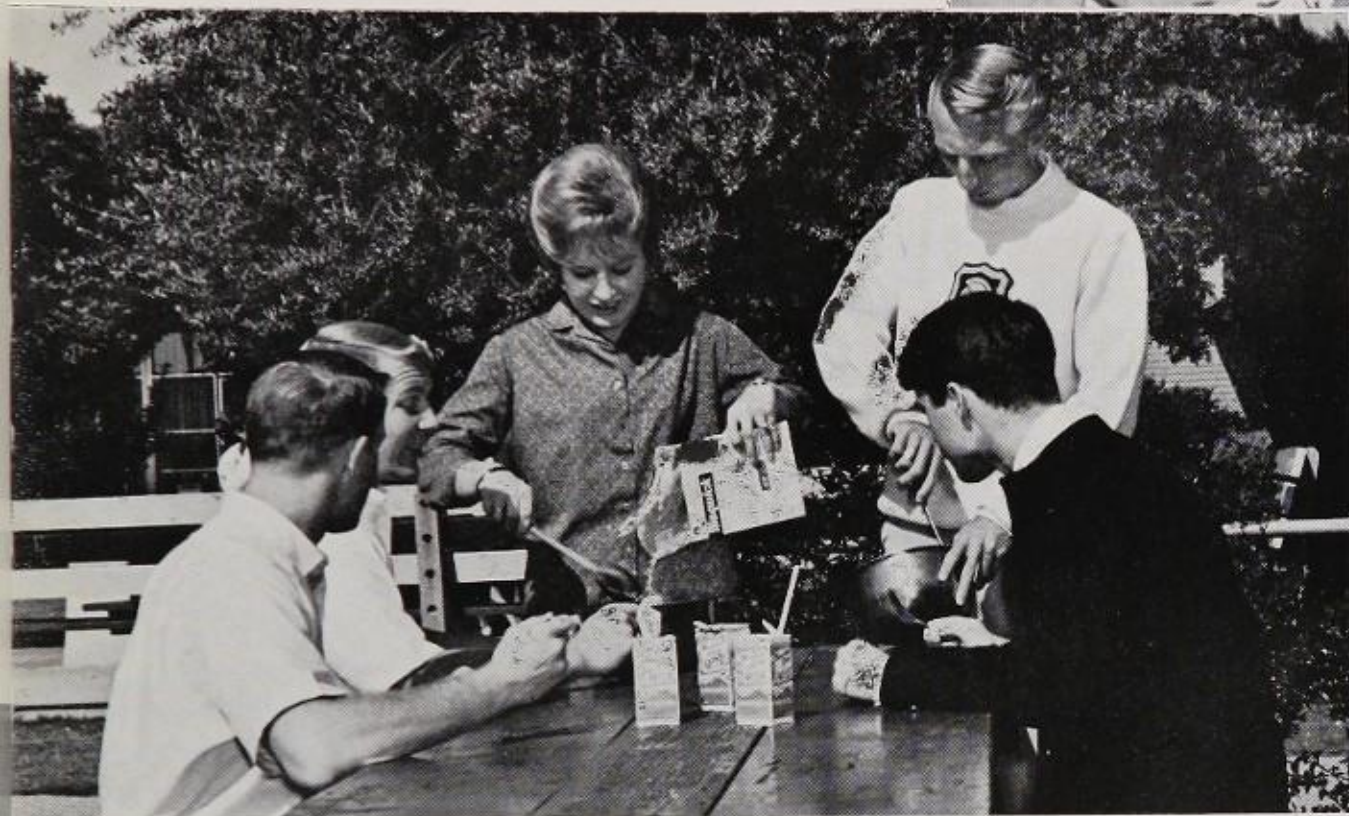

Friday before graduation. A big day for the seniors—the farewell breakfast, the awards assembly, then year-books to sign.

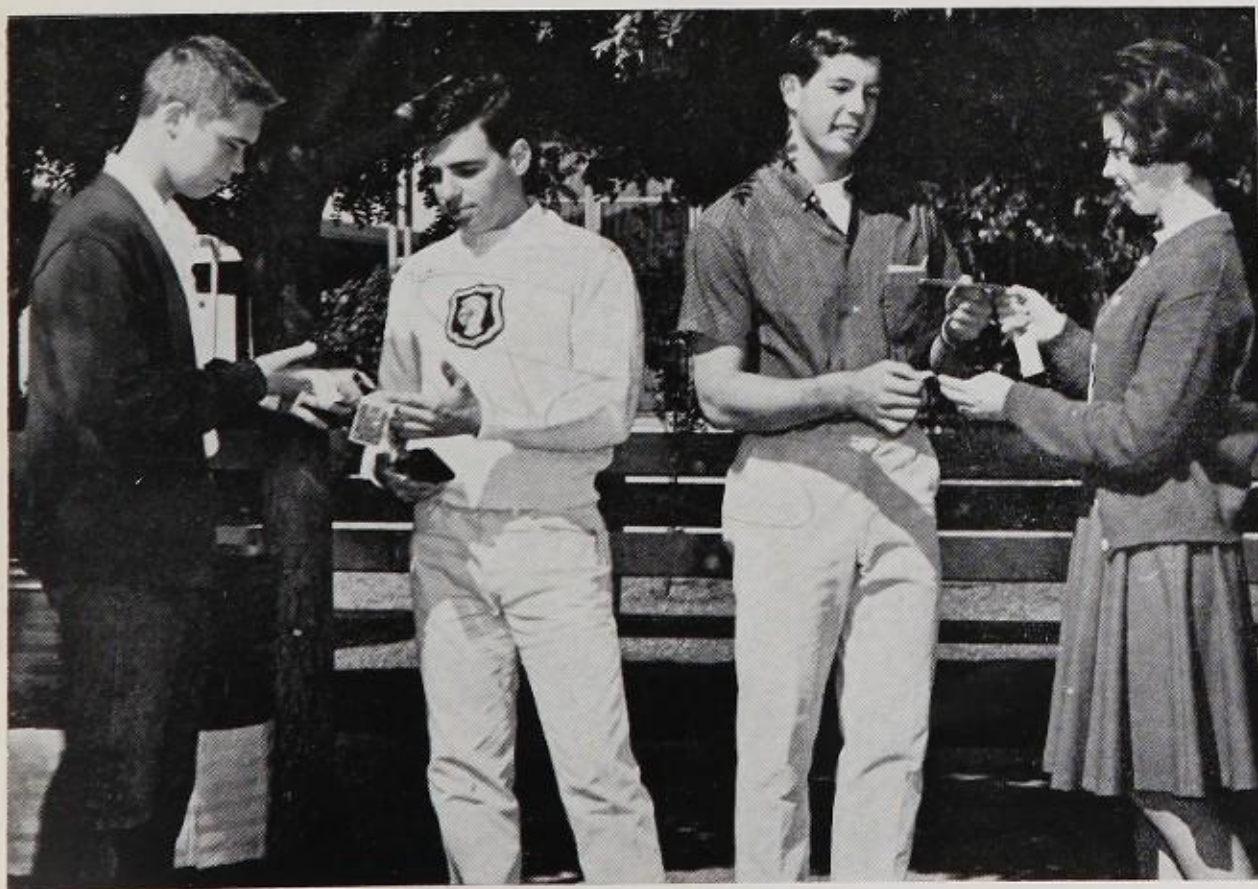

Mobiles, spraying fountains, angels, and a mirrored chandelier—props for "Midnight Rhapsody." The prom committee really achieved a night to remember.

Calendar

Behind all the activities of the final year at HHS was the hard-working cabinet. These "planners" laid the groundwork that insured success for each event.

The seniors' last money raising project was the pancake breakfast. Ah, those prepared mixes can be used anywhere—and are!

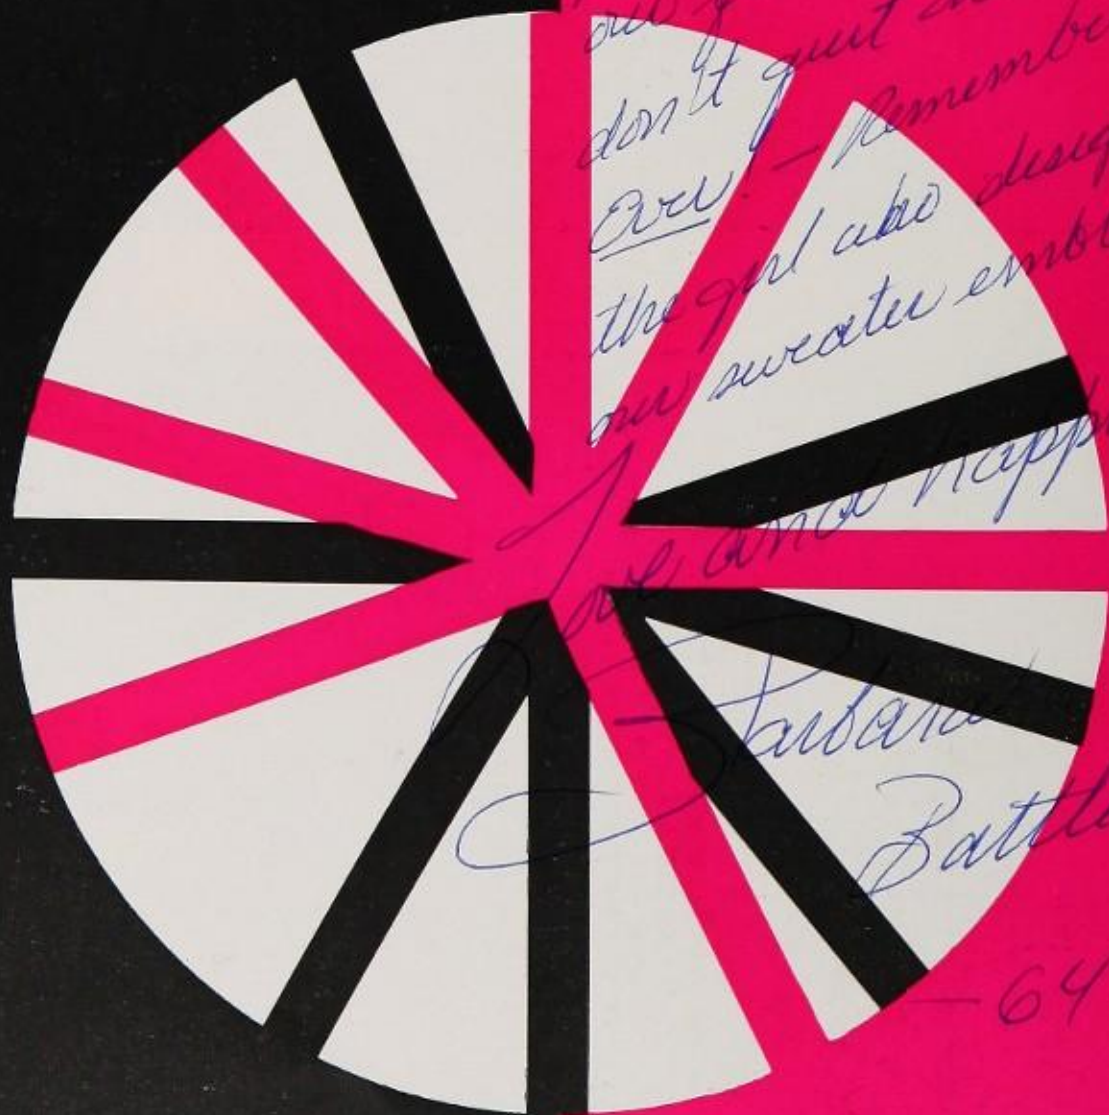

"Buy them golden ribbons," sang the seniors as they merrily sold scarlet and gold Cougar Rooter Ribbons at the football games.

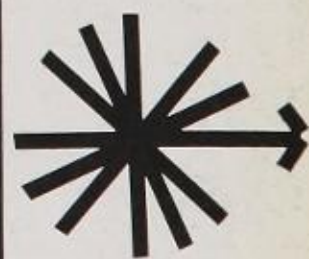

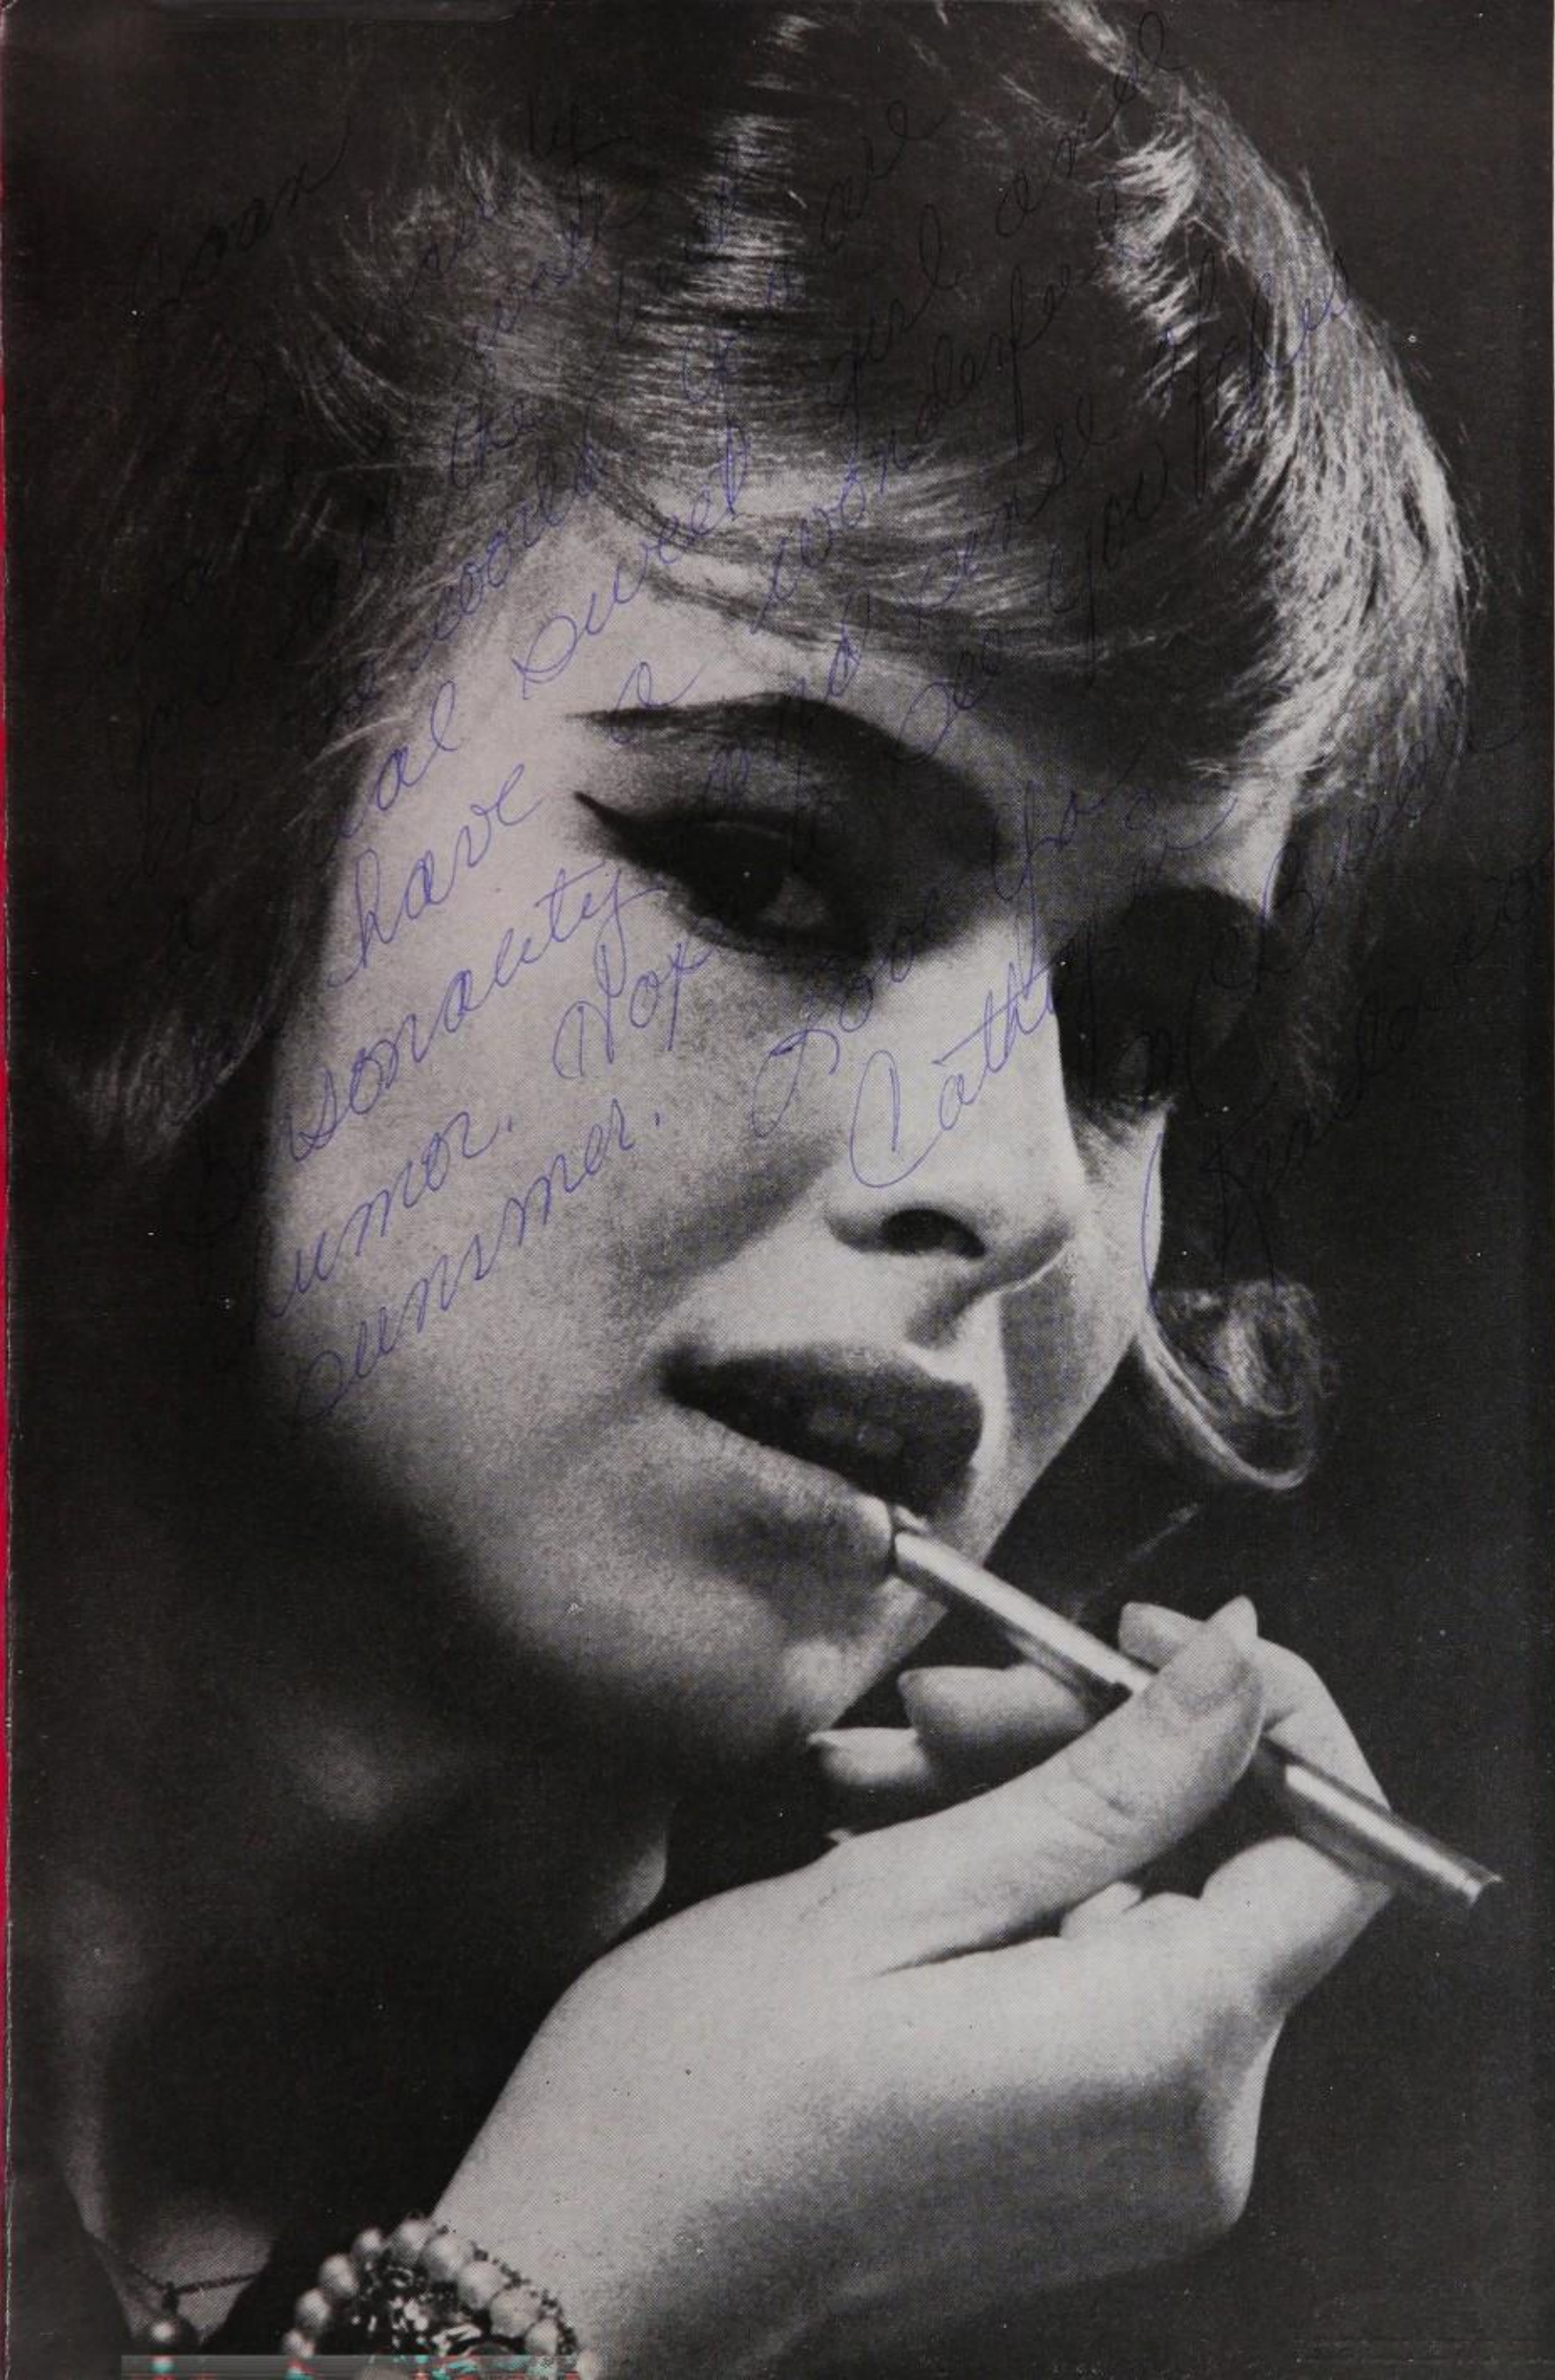

After months of preparation for the all-night party at the Hollywood Palladium, the seniors toast hail and farewell!

Faces

If you were a bit startled at seeing our dignified vice-principal strolling around campus in a colorful Santa cap, it was only a part of that extra special touch added to the Yule Tide season by the Diaconians. Since the formation of the club in 1957, these girls have been synonymous with helpfulness and courtesy. Not only do they act as guides, ushers at assemblies and games, they also serve at all school banquets. These girls give many hours of service to Hawthorne High, and help to build the school's name.

The handsome men of the Knights serve Hawthorne High with honor and dignity. The Knights and the Diaconians, their feminine counterpart, are the top service organizations on campus. A white sweater with either a Knight or Diaconian emblem on it, symbol of membership, is worn with both pride and humility. To belong to these groups is a mark of distinction and honor.

Knights' Melodrama

From actors to Santa's helpers. At Christmas time Knights and Diaconians were in their Santa hats to usher at the Christmas assembly. Possibly the sight of the Diaconians in their hats inspired "her fatal beauty."

For the first time in their history, the Knights decided to display their great talents as actors. Choosing an old-fashioned melodrama entitled "Her Fatal Beauty," these hard-working boys spent a month in arduous — and often hilarious — rehearsals. Not only did the audiences get much pleasure from this brief fling at histrionics, but the actors themselves will long remember their "nights of stardom."

Scene from "Bernardine" as covered by the alert Cougar reporters.

Few students realize the problems involved in putting together the weekly Cougar. Hours of hard work and the responsibility of meeting deadlines are all a part of the staff's effort to furnish the students of HHS with unbiased facts and complete coverage of school activities. There were many hotly discussed issues this year—issues which were thought provoking and stimulating. Thanks to the Cougar staff for a fine paper.

The Inside Story

The Cougar staff spends many long hours in the print shop before the paper is finally put to bed.

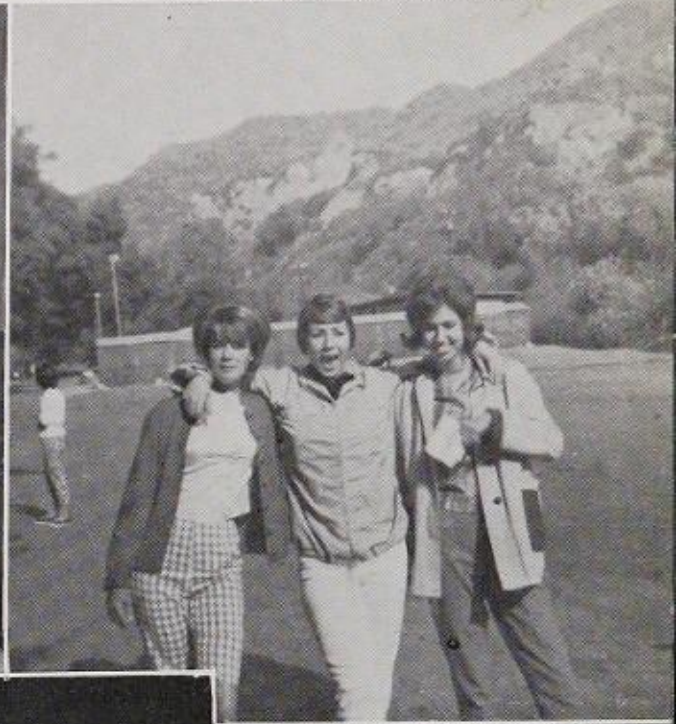

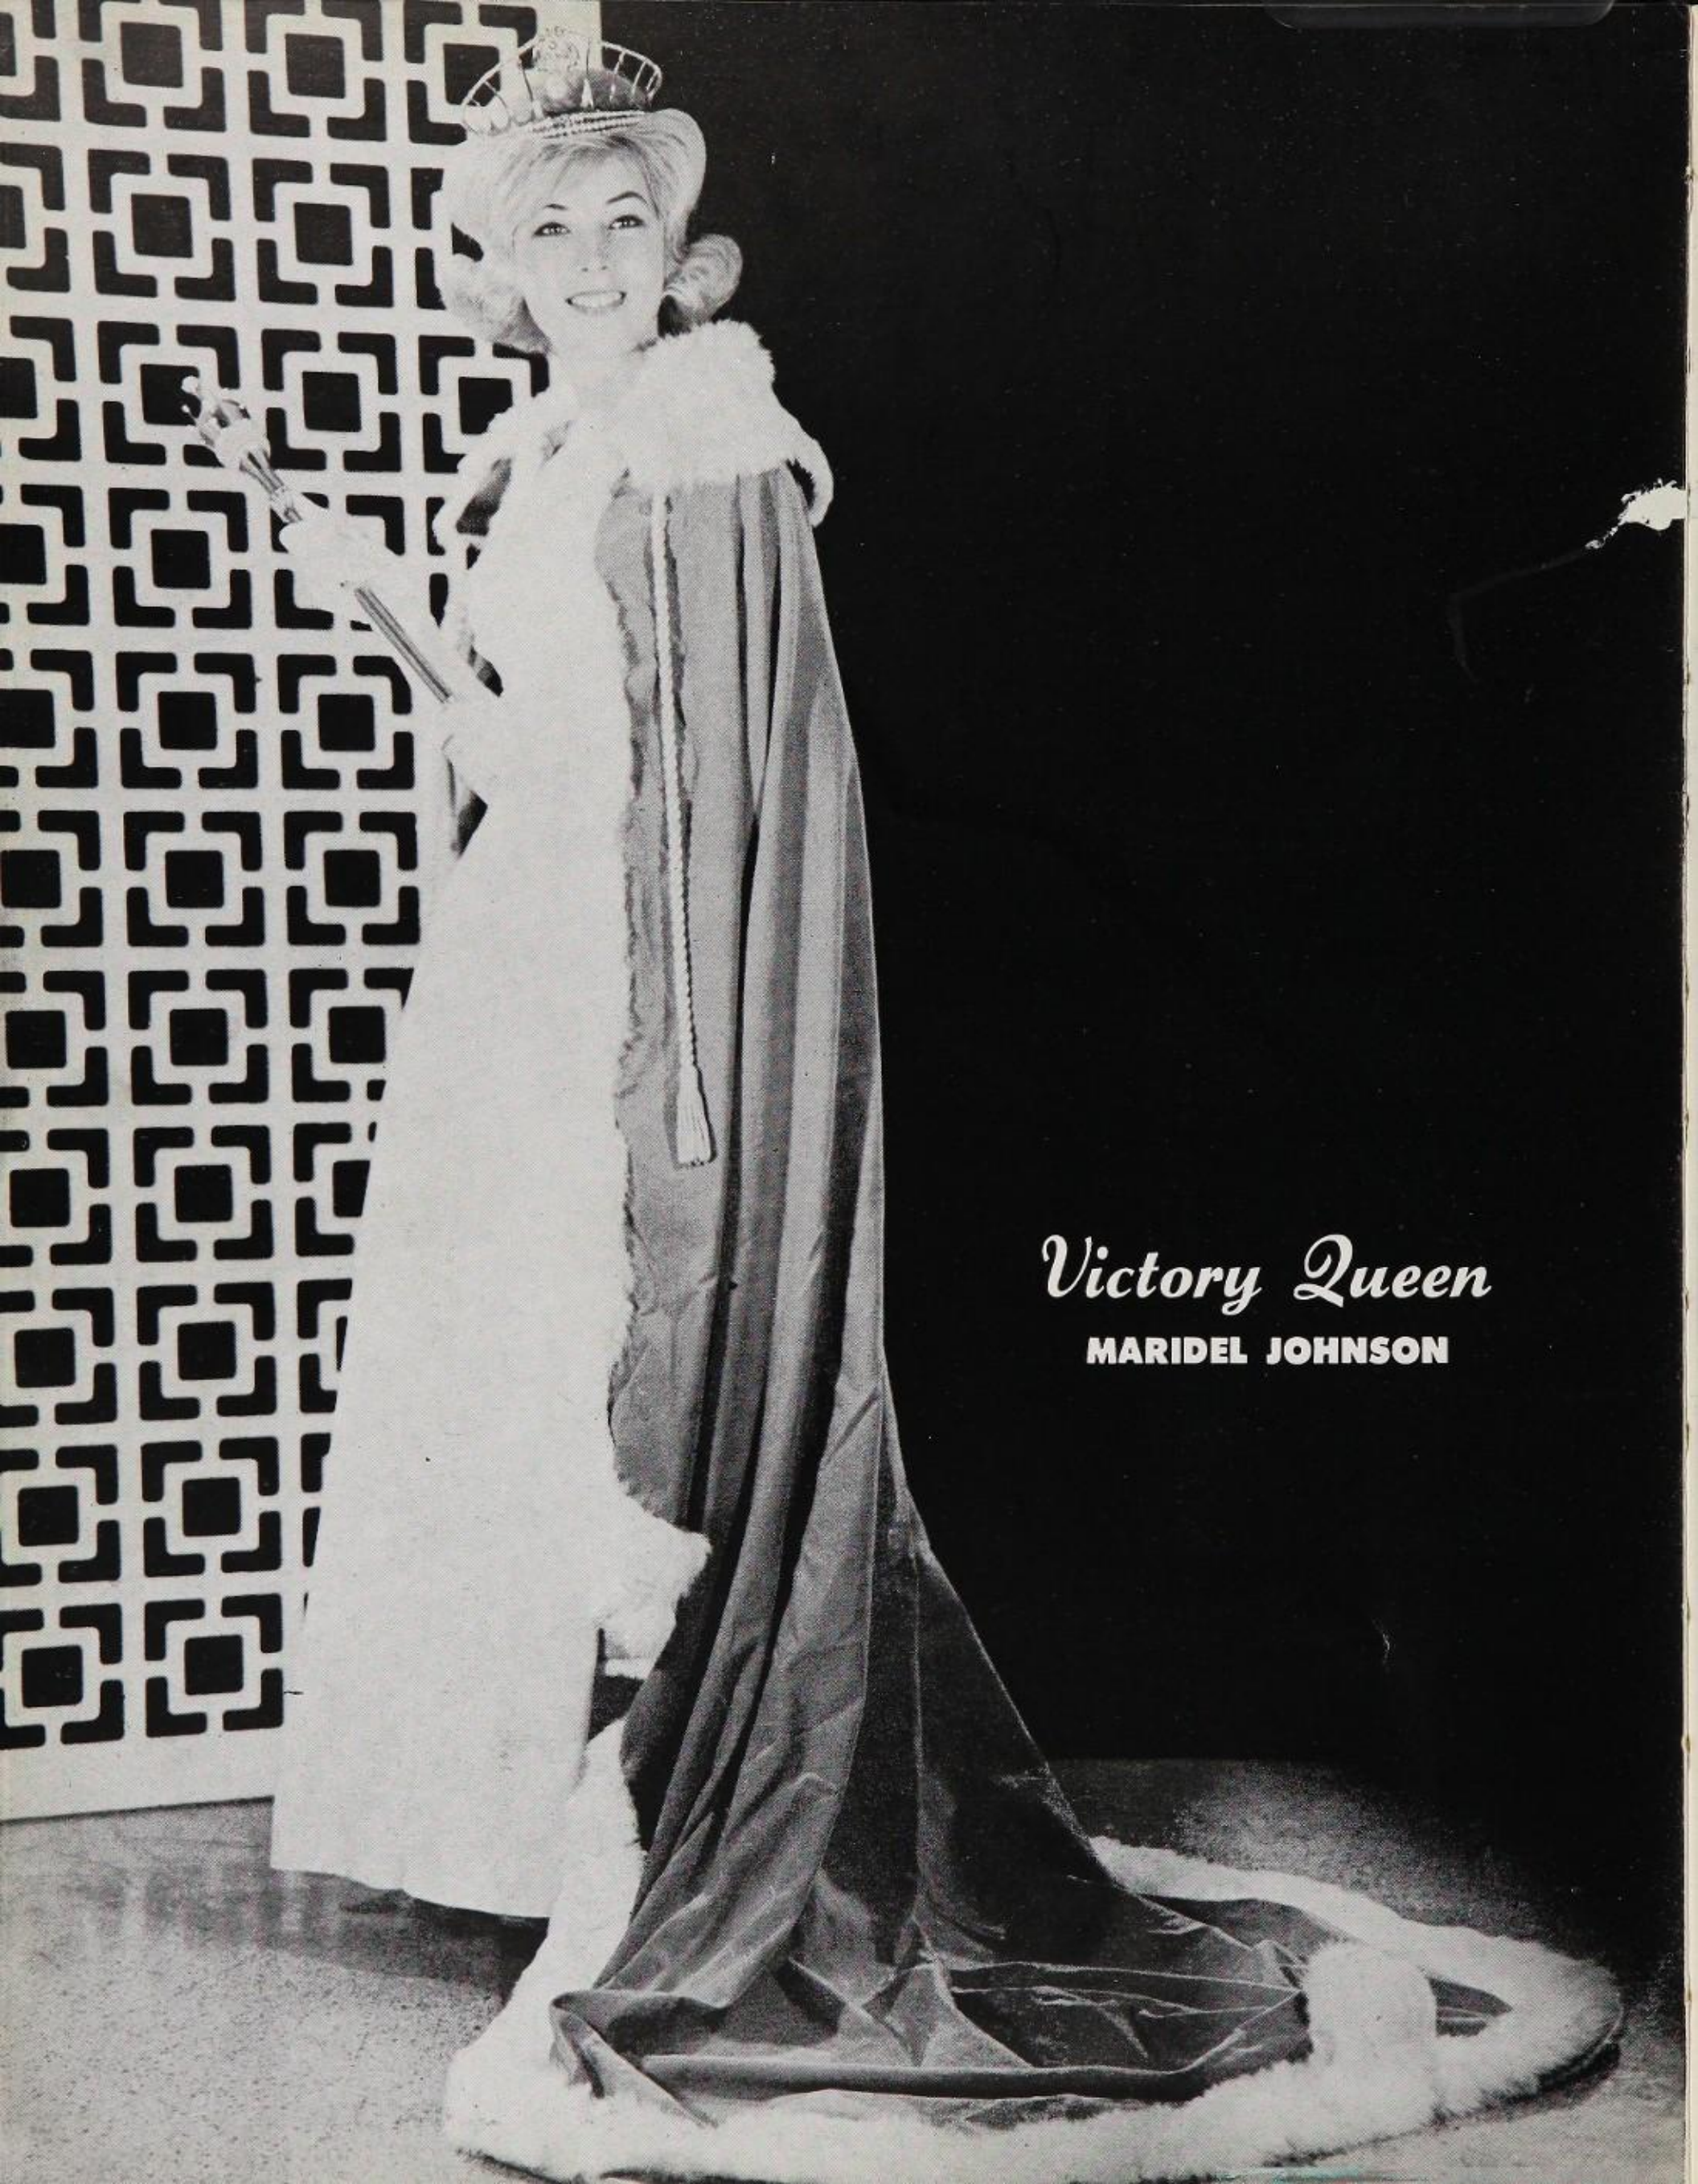

Cougar staff members enjoyed the annual Christmas Dance, both as a social activity and as an assignment for the paper. Cougar activities such as this received excellent coverage in the paper.

Honorary Princess

Every man who has a daughter thinks of her as a queen; for Maridel Johnson's father the dream becomes a reality as he proudly embraces "her majesty" at the coronation ceremonies.

A speculative crowd watches as Joanne Sharp hears the announcement that she has been chosen Senior Princess. Steve Smith and Les Johnson escort the Honorary Princesses, Vhera Arguello and Uli Rontag.

Football season brings with it a kaleidoscope of sounds—spirited school yells, excited screams of spectators, the clash of players on the field. There is nothing else quite like it. At this time the Victory Queen is chosen for HHS, to reign throughout the year. It is a coveted honor, which brings excitement and thrills now; and precious memories later.

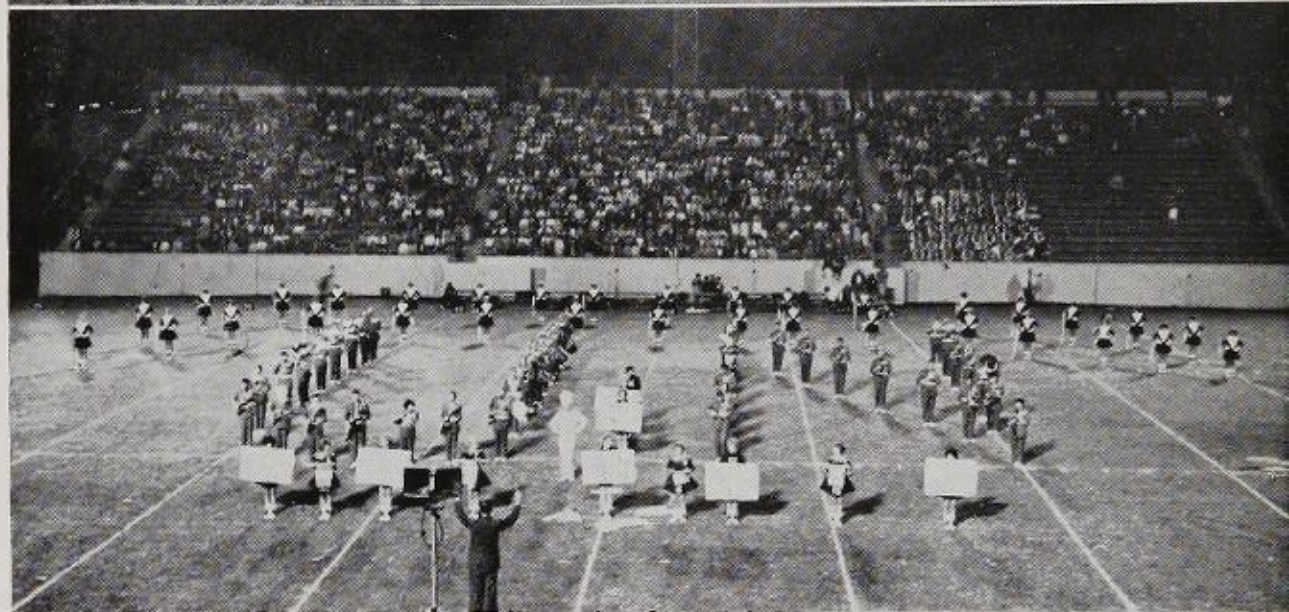

Karen Kraph, last year's Victory Queen, well knows the thrill of being picked to reign over the sports' season. Could it be that she silently feels a little pain of nostalgia as she congratulates her successor?

Reigns Supreme

A wonderful night for these lucky girls. Not only has a dream come true, but it has lasted on into the night, as they are escorted by handsome boys to the game and then to the coronation dance afterward.

The full realization that she is truly the Victory Queen comes to Maridel as she is officially presented during the half time activities before a crowd of thousands.

All eyes are on the band and drill team as they proceed with colorful activities to add to the excitement of the night.

Girls congratulate each other.

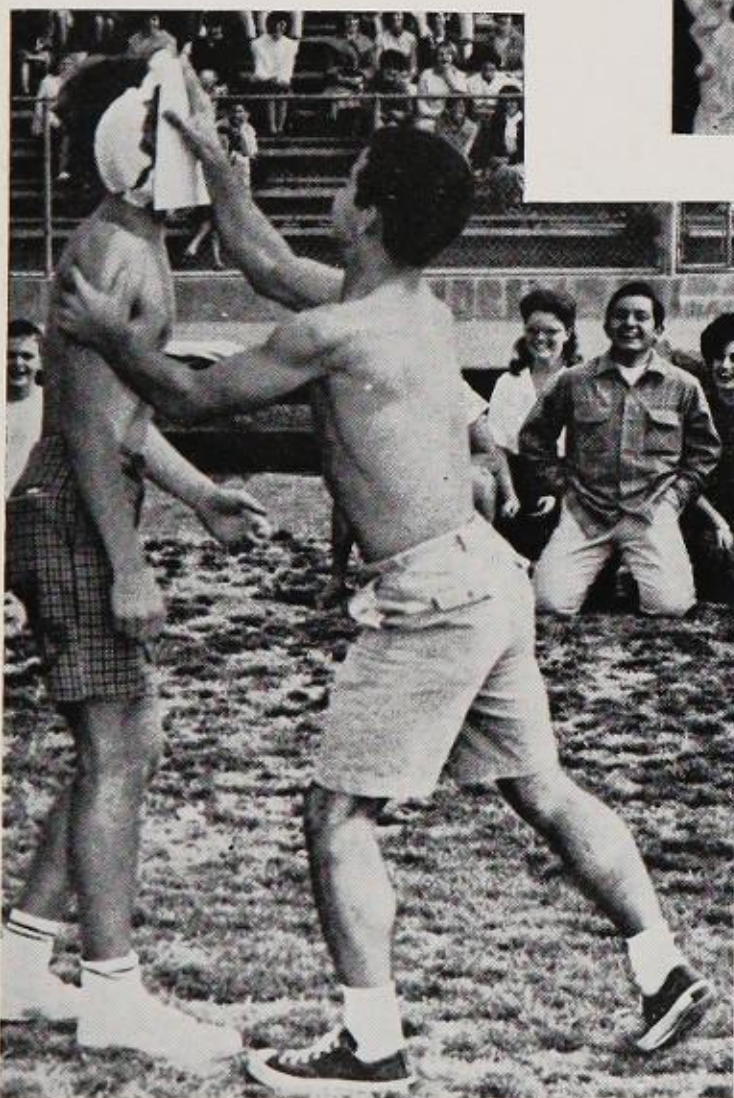

Mr. Nyman crowns the queen.

Lucky Gary Bickers gets a kiss.

Viva la Victory Queen!

Tug-of-war, egg relays, pies in the face — it was all done in the name of charity and was a part of Pep Week, a new tradition at HHS. On Monday many varied, and often comical hats, could be seen around campus. Tuesday brought out the true feeling of spirit with the wearing of our school colors. The pep squad was also auctioned off. It is rumored that some of the girls haven't been heard of since! The seniors, dressed as hill billies, topped the other classes with the most participants in Class Day, held on Wednesday. Juniors were beatniks, the Sophs were dressed in roaring twenties attire, and the frosh came as little children. The boys had to serve the girls as slaves on Thursday. During lunch it was juniors vs. seniors in the games on Hal Cap Field. The mighty seniors came out on top, and the trophy was given to Henry Lombardi. Gary Hughes, junior loser, received a pie in the face. Friday started loud and clear with the second annual Pep Breakfast. Alumni Bob Hunter M.C.'d, and the Beach Boys entertained. It was all fun for everyone, and charity was the real winner. That's where the proceeds went.

Kaleidoscope of Pep

Something new has come to Hawthorne High. Not tragedy, not comedy, but melodrama was grippingly presented by a startlingly talented troupe of performers from the Knights. They may never act again, but they leave the unforgettable heritage of a smash hit!

Her Fatal Beauty Casts a Spell

"Mother, please! I'd rather do it myself!" with these ringing words Gary Mykannen became an "overnight" star in a tension-packed melodrama. His emotional intensity was almost unbelievable in that great vehicle "A Shop Girl's Honor" or "Her Fatal Beauty." It was a hilarious evening for everyone as the Knights, borrowing a page from Shakespeare, enacted both male and female roles.

Scenes from the Hawthorne Highway production of "Her Fatal Beauty." Fabulous! Fantastic! Magnificent! Colossal! For adults and minors only!

On Dinny And The Witches

Fantasts, clairvoyants, theatrical and musical fans alike were excited by Hawthorne's presentation of "Dinny and the Witches." "Double, double toil and trouble; fire burn and caldron bubble"—and the weird witches three cast their evil spell upon an eager young trumpet player known as Dinny. From that moment on, the world was turned upside down in great turmoil and trouble. Dinny's solution to this problem provided an evening of first-rate entertainment for local theatre fans.

The day before the Fair.

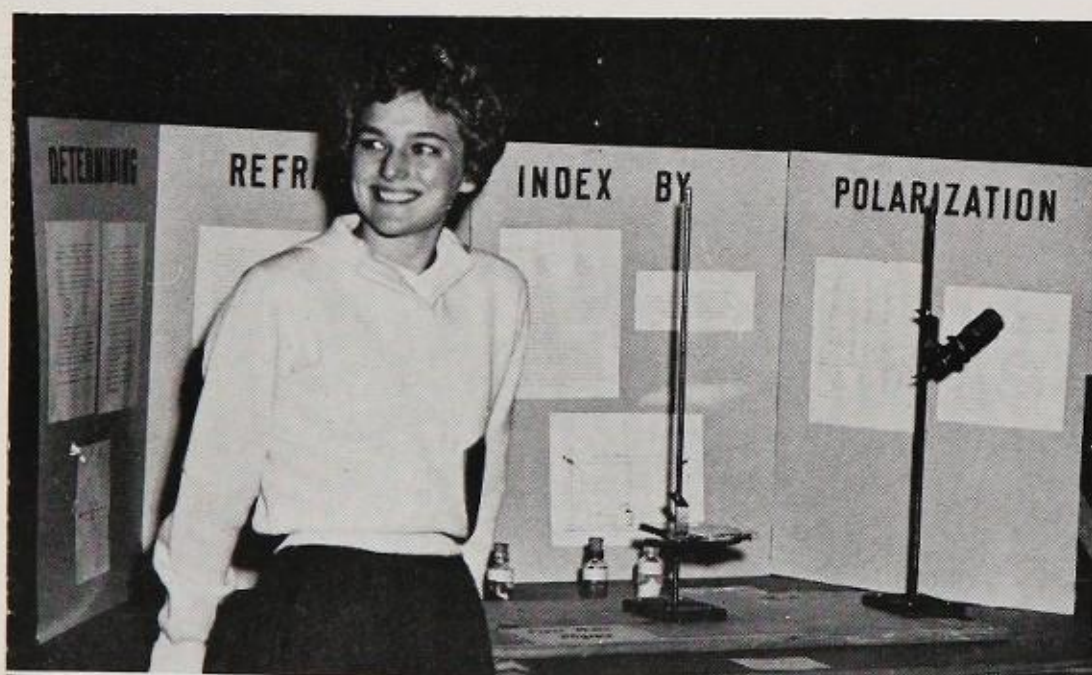

Last minute rush!

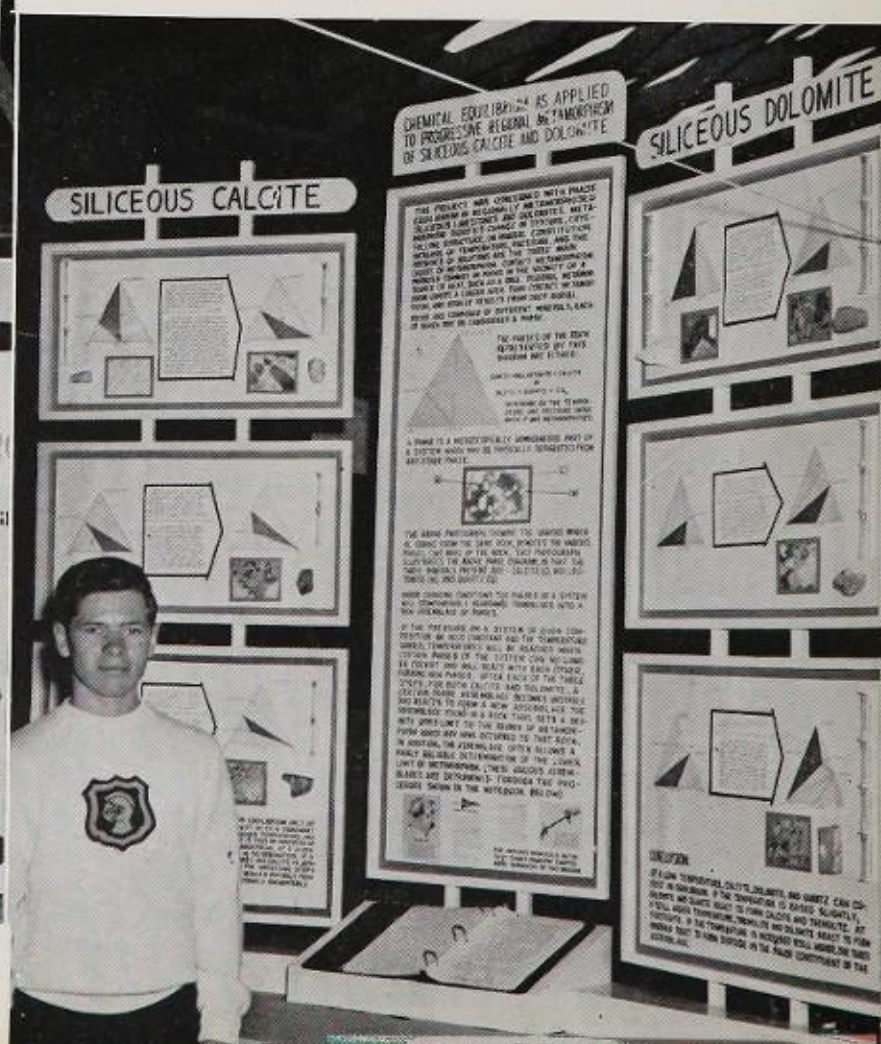

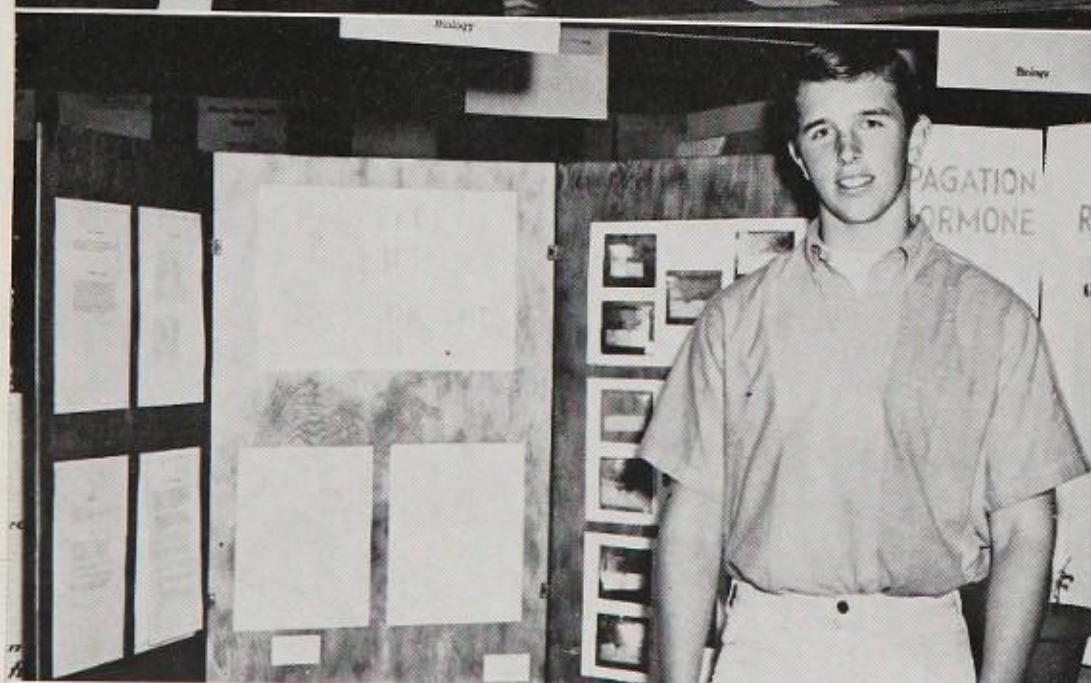

Mr. Silcox and those grades!

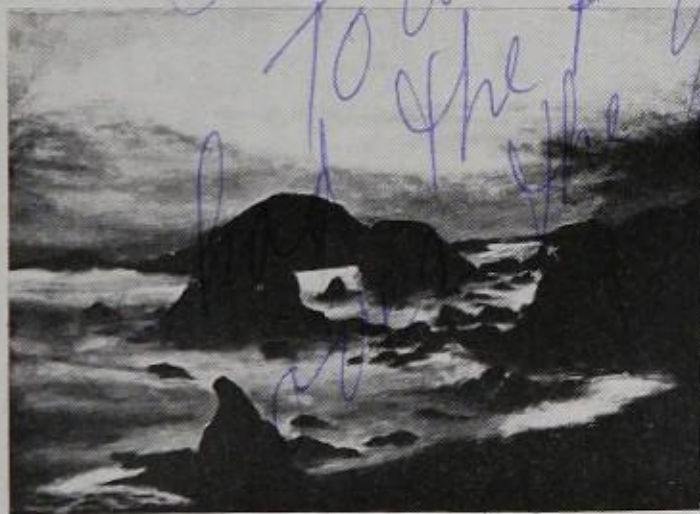

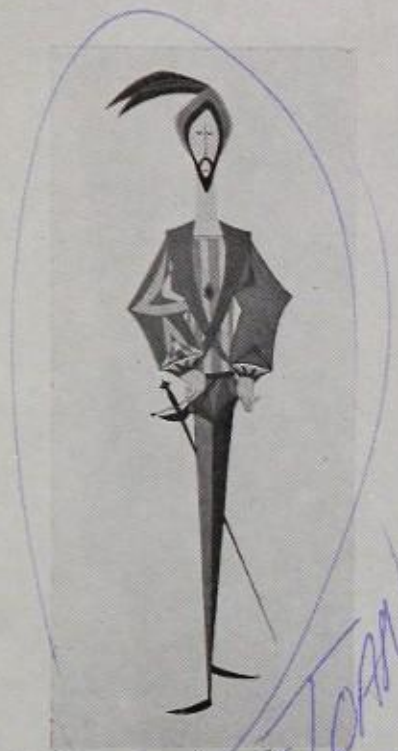

From Atoms To Art

A large and enthusiastic audience viewed Hawthorne High's 6th annual Science Fair this year. Long before the night of judging, however, behind-the-scenes work for the fair had been started. Students and teachers logged many hours of labor and worry to insure a successful production. To them all—faculty, students, lab assistants, Knights, Diaconians, and custodians—a big thank you from the entire community.

WINNERS: Diane Bleeker, first in physics; Tim Fraser, first in biology; Harold Lafferty, grand prize winner for the second time.

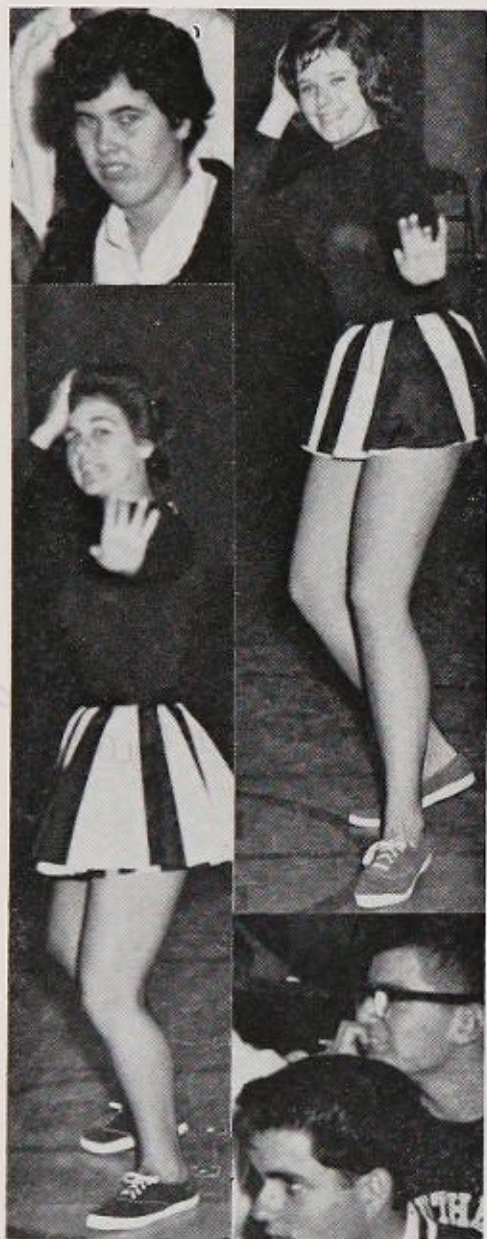

Joan,

Your best improvement as a award (gold key) was most impressive this year. (Hope to see your continuous improvement next year)

Spirited pep rallies, red hot political campaigns, a tear-filled victory queen assembly, popular entertainers, and our own "spectacular" talent show . . . they were all welcome breaks in the routine of study.

Music, talk, dance . . . the range of activity was varied. And occasionally the spectators in the bleachers gave as great a show as that on the platform. Too bad our candid camera could not record the kaleidoscope of expressions and moods.

The Click Of Typewriters

Future secretaries, typists, and stenographers make up the membership of the Sten-ettes Club. Along with typing, dictation, and tips on how to get and to hold a job, the Sten-ettes have enjoyed an evening together at the Egyptian Theatre and dined together on seafood delicacies at the new Pieces of Eight Restaurant at Marina Del Ray—a year of fun and purposeful activity.

Charming leaders of an outstanding group, certainly one of the most energetic on campus, are Mary McGaughey, president; Dixie Bengen, secretary; and Vickie Barath, treasurer. Sten-ettes have a long and proud history on the HHS scene. Behind that record is the untiring interest of the advisor, Mrs. Elizabeth Corliss.

Sleepy Choralier members enjoy an early morning "come as you are party." What an hour to be dragged out of bed!

Spirited voices belonging to members of the Choralier's Club joined together once again for a year full of singing and fun. Christmas caroling and the Spring Concert were the harmonious highlights of the year.

'Til The Wee Small Hours

It takes months of planning, much work, and some disappointments to stage a big affair like the Junior-Senior Prom. There were times when the senior cabinet, remembering the troubles and headaches of making the big dance a reality, wondered whether it was worth going on! But MIDNIGHT RHAPSODY was the outstanding event of the year, and each couple who went to the Hollywood Turf Club that night will hold the memories dear for years to come.

Janice Dorn and Bill Shultz were the lucky ones chosen as the 1963 King and Queen of the Prom.

Which Club Schedule Are We

In the ever evolving patterns of campus life, clubs of all sizes and shapes provide a balance between learning and social adjustment. The club program has become a vital thing at Hawthorne High; it is as much a part of our existence as sports and studies.

Twice a month the bell rings for the special club schedule, and the students race from the "captivity" of the classrooms to their lively club meetings. As television so clearly teaches—we all need a change of pace. This is it.

An Irresistible Force

Girls' League boasts the largest membership of any club on campus, for every girl attending Hawthorne High is automatically a member. A welcome party for all freshmen girls, lunch time sales, fashion shows, specialized assemblies—these all formed part of the pattern of living of this lively and worthwhile organization, an organization which exists to serve the HHS co-eds.

Meets An Inanimate Object

This was a relatively quiet year of club schedules, movies, and planning for the Boys' League. There are rumors that a scholarship may be offered by the organization in the future and that some assemblies are in the offing. Come alive, boys!

Tomorrow we've just got to get organized!

The Meeting

The House of Representatives and the Senate, headed by a President and Speaker, respectively, make up student government at Hawthorne High School.

Student government advisor Mr. Hamilton enjoys the company of Don Allen and Lynn Brooks at the installation banquet.

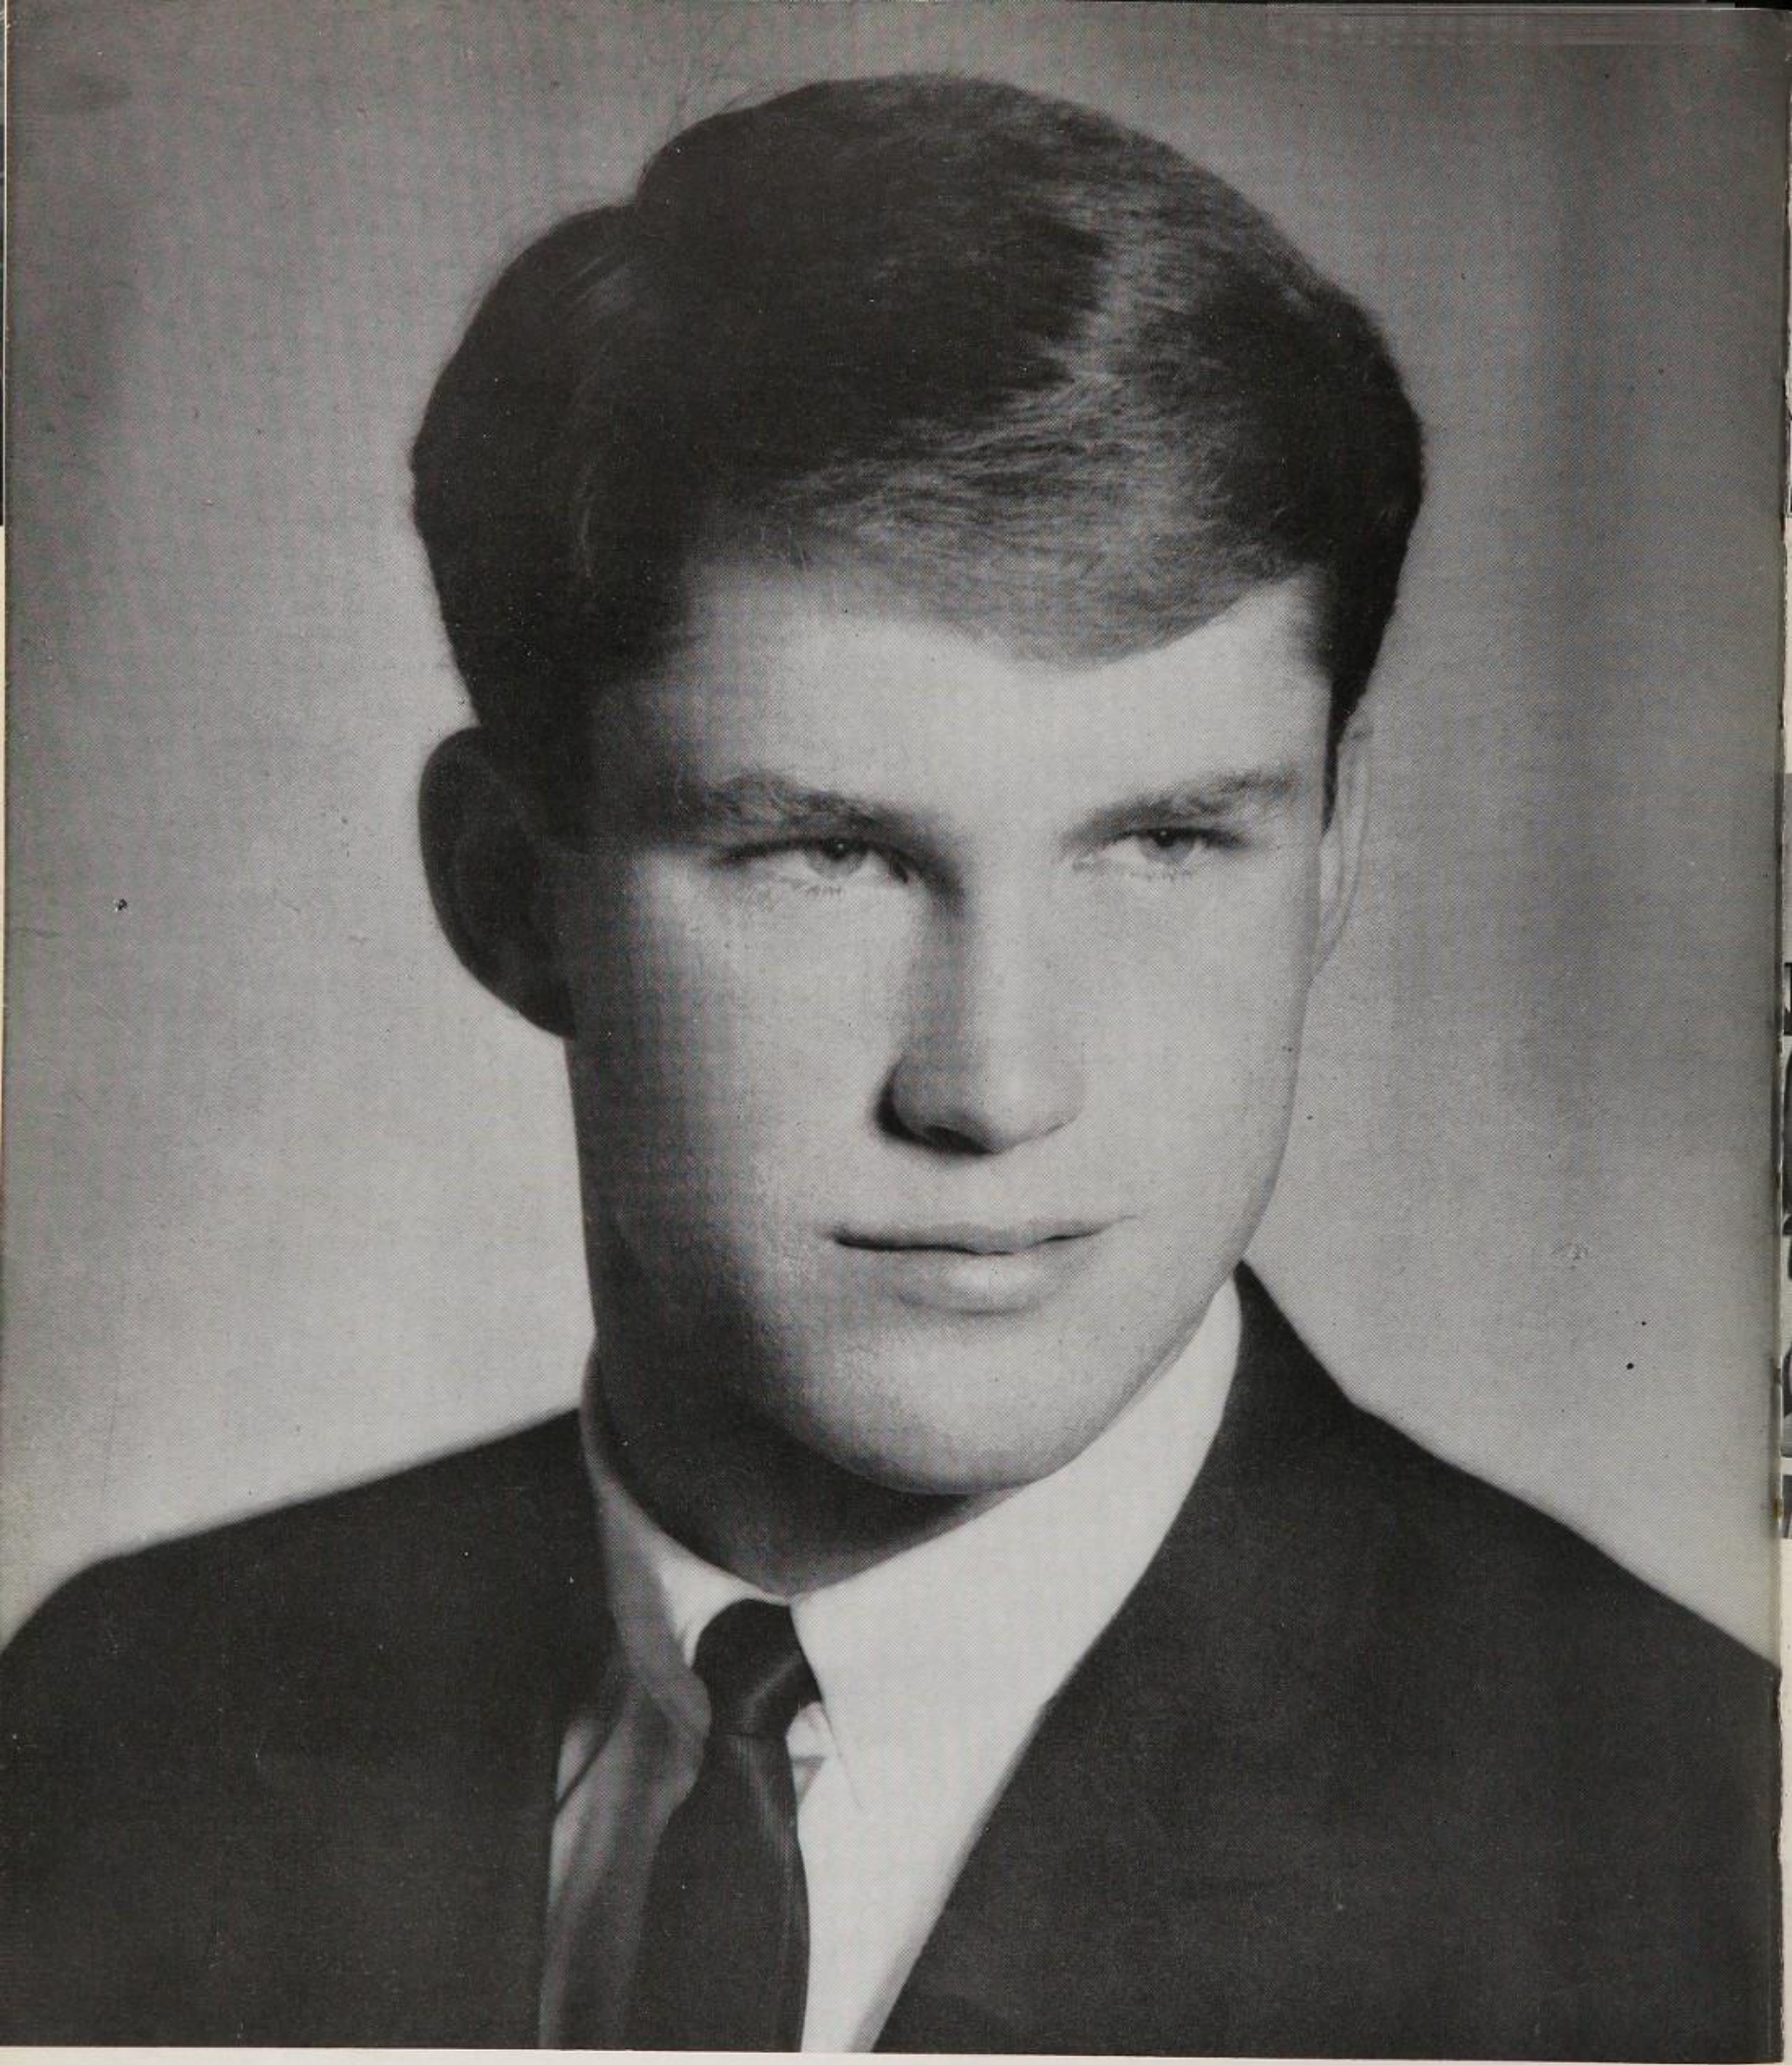

These are student leaders? Yep, there they are, both student body presidents at play.

Will Come to Order

Patterned on the structure of our federal government, the two governing bodies of the HHS student government are composed of elective officers and appointed officers. Planning and coordinating campus activities take up their time and efforts. This year, however, the two groups did an intensive study of the real efficiency of our student government, with an eye to proposed changes which would make student government even better at HHS.

From the opening of the school year juniors have eagerly anticipated the day when they would be seniors. The time passed rapidly, for during that wait they had class rings to flaunt, football games to attend, "Candy Cane Dreams" to sponsor, report cards to worry about, class colors to choose, and senior sweaters to order. Yet none of these activities could compare in excitement with their first prom. "Midnight Rhapsody" proved enjoyable for everyone. Despite the hectic hours taken for its preparation, this was easily the highlight of the year. With the planning of the Senior Breakfast program and the nostalgia of the Senior Awards Assembly, the Class of '64 finally realized what it means to be seniors. They have arrived!

SUSAN EARLY
First Semester President

WAYNE BRYAN
Second Semester President

Sophomores

No longer low class on the totem pole, the sophomores started the year with Susan Early as their able prexy. Shortly afterward Sherry Nichols was elected sophomore princess, and the busy year was underway. The second semester cabinet was led by Wayne Bryan. Garnett Pollard brought honors to the sophomores when he was chosen most valuable "B" basketball player, and the exceptional football skill of Bob Jenks and Randy Clendaniels added luster to the soph ranks. The year ended on a proud note as class rings were ordered—proof that they would soon be upperclassmen.

The sophomores re-create the mood of the roaring twenties during Pep Week. The second year class went all out for spirit during this week.

CARL BRYAN
Freshman Class President

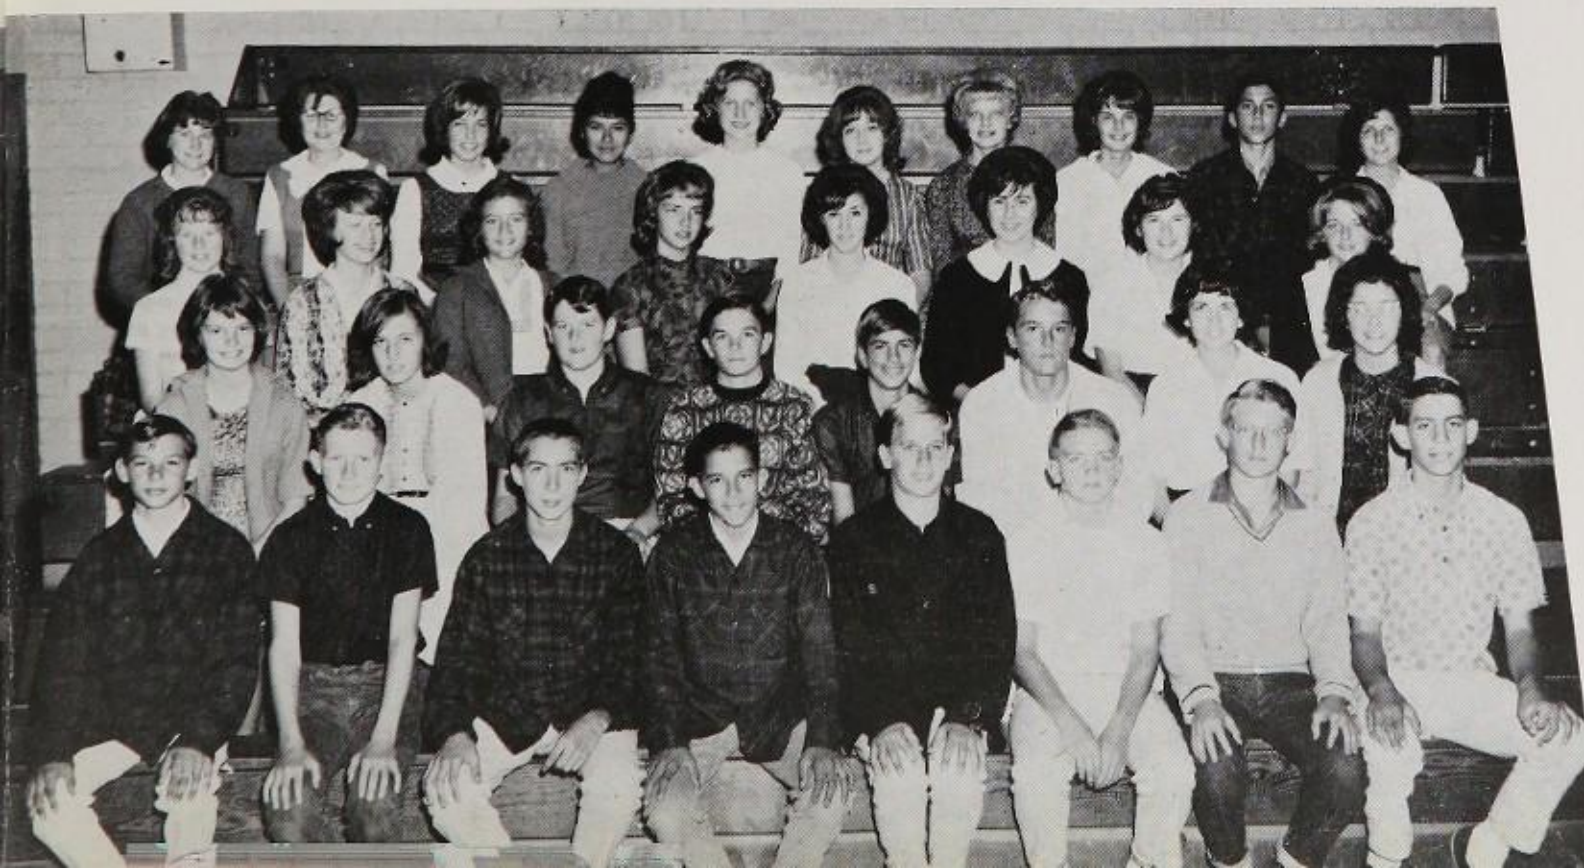

Year

Is it true that teachers have a contest to see who can assign the most homework? Even at lunch time we are surrounded by books! Welcome to HHS, frosh.

"Seven minutes? We'll never make it!" This was the main thought whirling through the minds of the freshmen in their first few days at HHS. Before long, however, the Class of '66 mastered the art of getting to class on time and began to enjoy the breaks in the busy curriculum — such pleasant diversions as assemblies, club meetings, and football games. The freshmen also took time to participate in governing their class and helping to build its treasury by selling "Cougar Rooter Booster Buttons." During Pep Week the youngsters displayed enthusiastic school spirit — the kind of spirit that makes everyone proud of "our frosh."

A Powerful

First into view on the sports scene is football, and rough action is seen as a powerful Cougar squad joins the race for the coveted Bay League title. This year Hawthorne, along with Redondo, was chosen as the team to beat. Pre-season activities found the Cougars shaken slightly by a hot Dominquez squad, the Dons capturing the game by a lone touchdown. The "kindled" Cougs roared back to blast the Bellflower Buccaneers in a 19-7 tussle, with John Aguilar and Pat Burris combining to gain valuable yardage.

Halfback Tom Long cuts by two "resting" Spartan foes to add another touchdown to the mounting Cougar score.

Varsity Squad

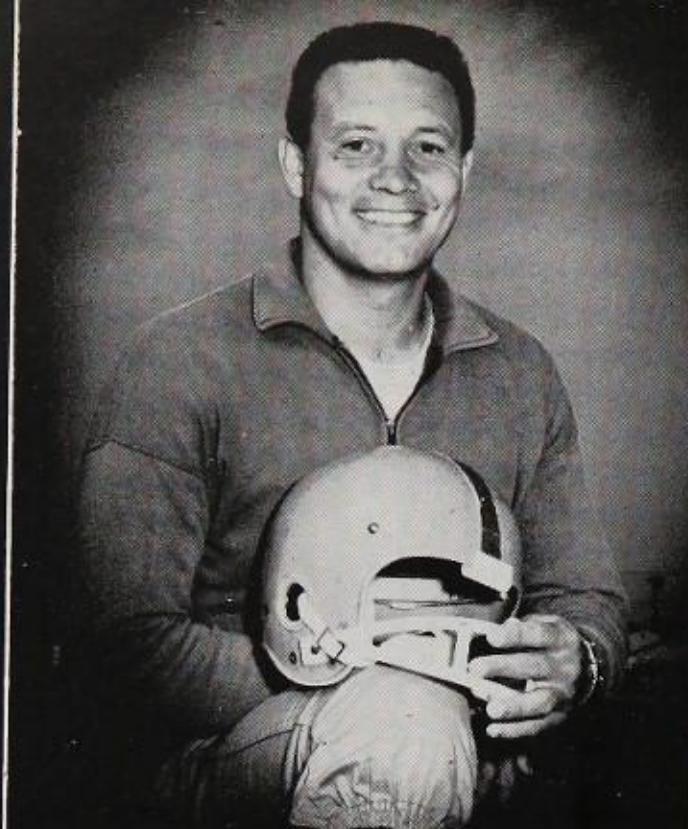

In the first varsity game ever to be played at Hawthorne's own Halcap field, the Pacific Pirates downed the hapless Cougs in a 6-0 squeeze. With a pass interception attempt by Burris, sad Hawthorne spectators saw the ball slip through his hands and fall into the arms of a surprised Pirate, who ran for the charity 6. In the league opener, the Morningside Monarchs were once again netted in a romping 26-7 victory. Led by the quarterback Bill Daquila the Cougars rolled for a total gain of 294 yards on offense, with Bill personally going for 122 yards, two touchdowns, and throwing six for six.

End Jerry Cass picks up two tired Monarch "hitch-hikers" as he fights his way through a crowded field of fierce "butterflies."

Halfback Steve Smith and Fullback Dennis Lord encounter those persistent Spartans once again! Crash! And South's hopes of ever upsetting the defiant Cougars are ended forever.

VARSITY ACTION

Blood, Sweat,

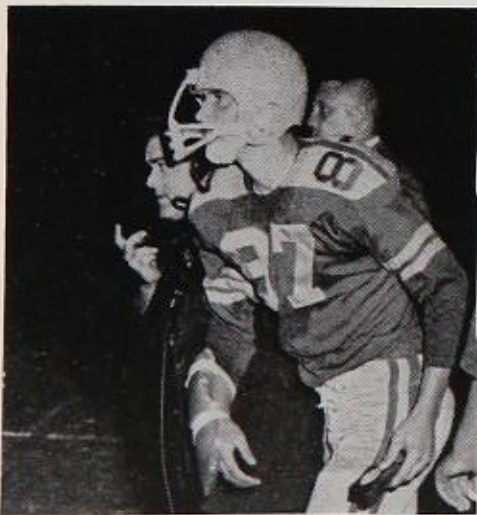

Dennis Lords gets a little assistance before going on to the battle field.

In the Redondo hassle, the hard fighting Hawthorne men came from behind to tie the Seahawks 13-13 in a game that later proved to be an obstacle in Hawthorne's climb up the ladder. Steve Smith carried the banner for Hawthorne that night, scoring both touchdowns and gaining 142 yards, as compared to a total of only 66 yards gained by the rest of the Cougar scamperers. In the last home game of the season, a feeble South High squad was liquidated 37-0, with previously injured halfback Tom Long returning to add 68 yards in just 4 tries for the Cougar drive.

A team mistake and a pair of costly fumbles resulted in a 31-27 loss to Inglewood, dropping Hawthorne to the number three position in the league. When a Cougar member mistakenly stayed in, leaving 12 men on the field, Long ducked off to avoid a penalty. Meanwhile, end Bill Morris, not knowing of Long's absence behind him, remained to defend the short pass. Ash of Inglewood spotted Misko and threw a long one for the deciding touchdown.

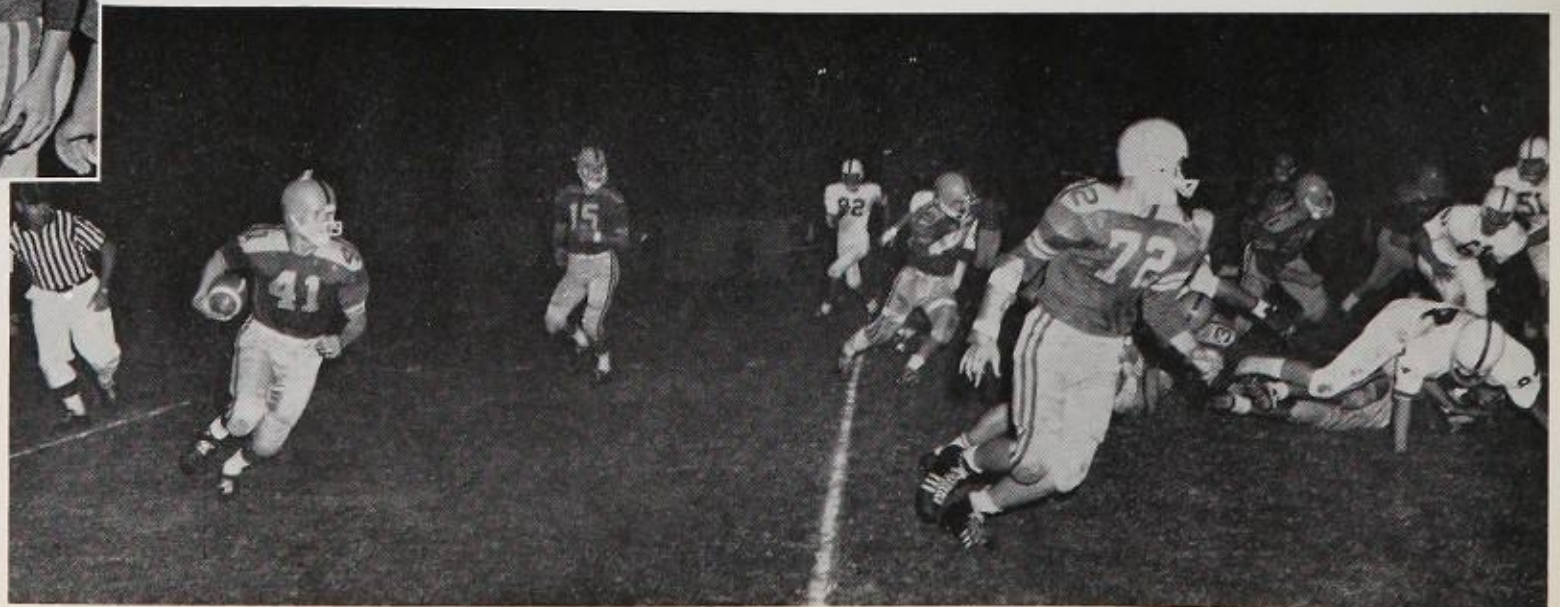

Heavy penalties in the Leuzinger match cost Hawthorne two touchdowns, made by Steve Smith, and 95 yards. But the Cougars still chalked up a 27-13 decision, with the Daquila-Bickers combo taking to the air to gain a total of 197 yards. Tied for 2nd spot with Redondo, the Cougars fought to maintain their position by shutting out Mira Costa 13-0. Defense was the key word, and the Golden Men held the Mustangs to a mere total ground gain of 42 yards. Daquila once again was boss as he tossed for 109 yards and both touchdowns.

On the cold windy eve of the playoff for the league championship, Hawthorne's dreams of CIF vanished as a prevailing North High eleven dropped the Cougars 22-0. Hawthorne settled for a third place post for the second year, behind North and Redondo; but the Cougs led the League in points earned, with an impressive total of 143.

Go get 'em, Larry!

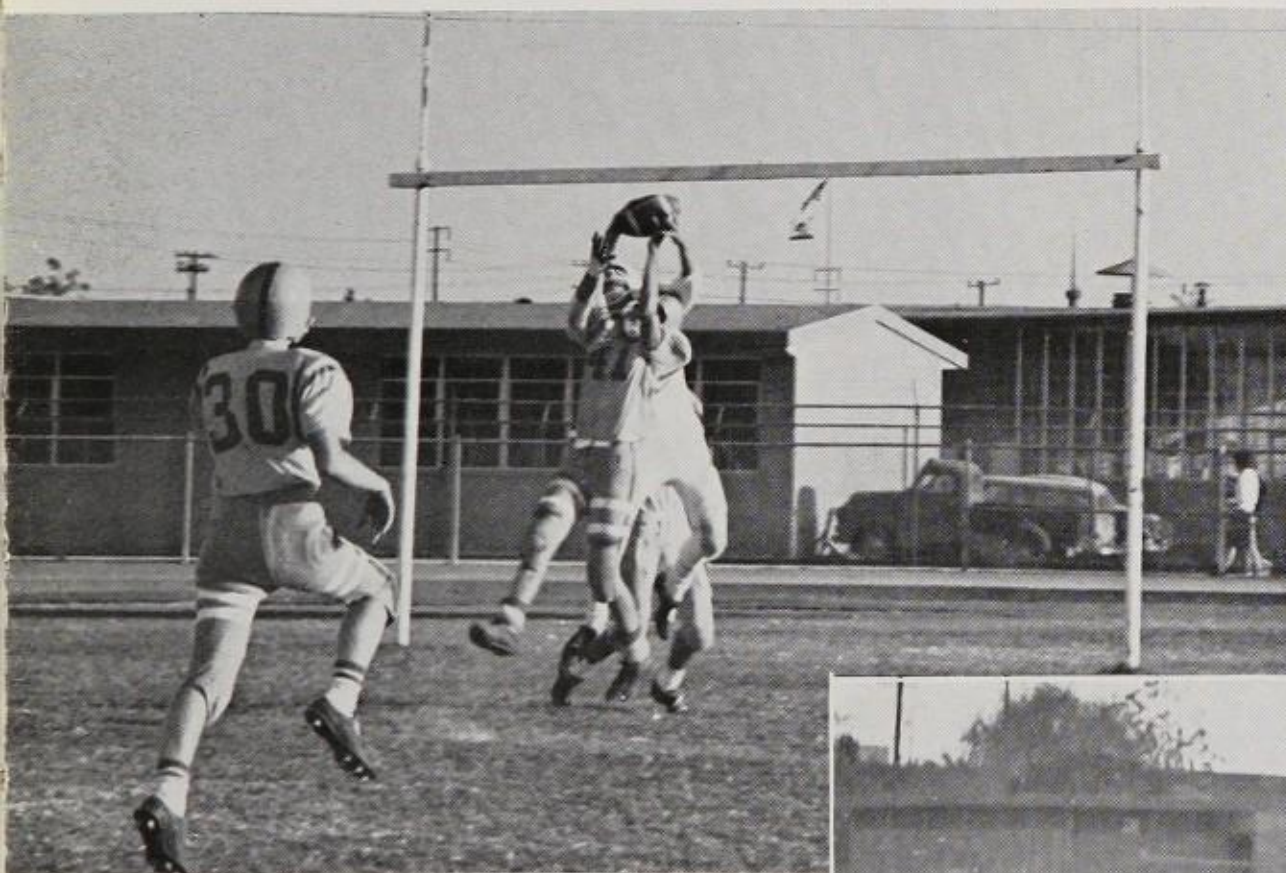

Steve Smith takes the hand-off from Bill Daquila and the offensive line moves forward.

With much vigor, J. B. Schroeder turns the first lap of his 50-mile hike.

Although this year's cross country squad was handicapped by injuries and illness, the boys were in there trying during every meet. J. B. Schroeder, most outstanding of this year's harriers, turned out a top performance in placing 4th out of a field of 84 in the Mt. The "Never Say Die" Boys

It's Willie Johnston high in the air to get control of the tip.

Paced by such Bay League stand-outs as Mykkanen, Peterson, Bickers, Goodman, Lent, and Babineau, the Cougar basketball team rumbled through a rough season, settling for a dignified 3rd spot for the second consecutive year.

Most valuable JV player Bill Tharp racks up another Cougar score for the hometowners.

Had a Hope, A Prayer,

With Bickers dominating the boards and Lent displaying his "adhesive" defense, the Cougar prestige was once again upheld as league foes were reminded of Hawthorne's determination and might. The Converse Men boasted three All-Centinel Valley members: Gary Mykkanen and Ron Peterson, first team; Mike Babineau, second team.

Starting slowly but gaining rapid momentum as the season progressed, the Junior Varsity was an example of fine team spirit and effort. Willie Johnston, twice most valuable player, led the J.V.'s, followed by scampering Bill Tharp, who established a team high of 29 points, in the final game of the season. The J.V.'s, like the Varsity, finished third in Bay League standings.

Then A Tear

The battlin' Bees enjoyed a fine season as co-captain Tom Panella and most valuable player Garnett Pollard highlighted the squad action. Much valuable experience was gained by these future varsity hopefuls.

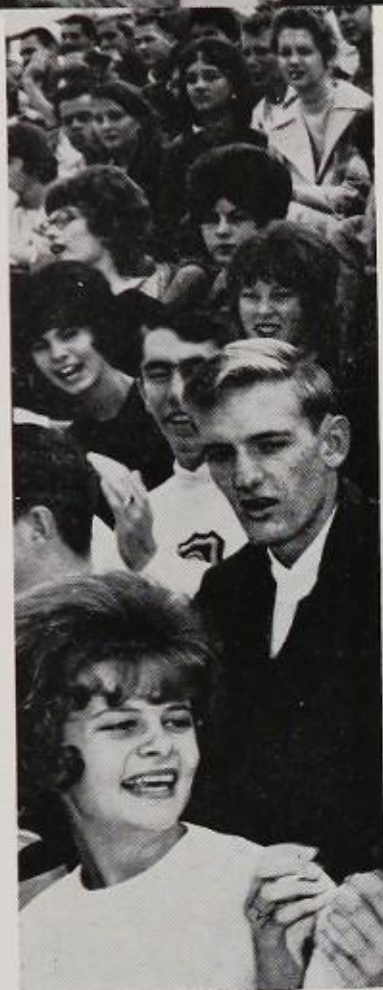

The Cee's also swept through their season with an eye on stepping up in ranks. Stand-outs on the "wee winners" were Roger Lent, captain; and Dale Bolstad, most valuable.

Heavily guarded Bob Damon comes through with another two points for this year's Bee squad.

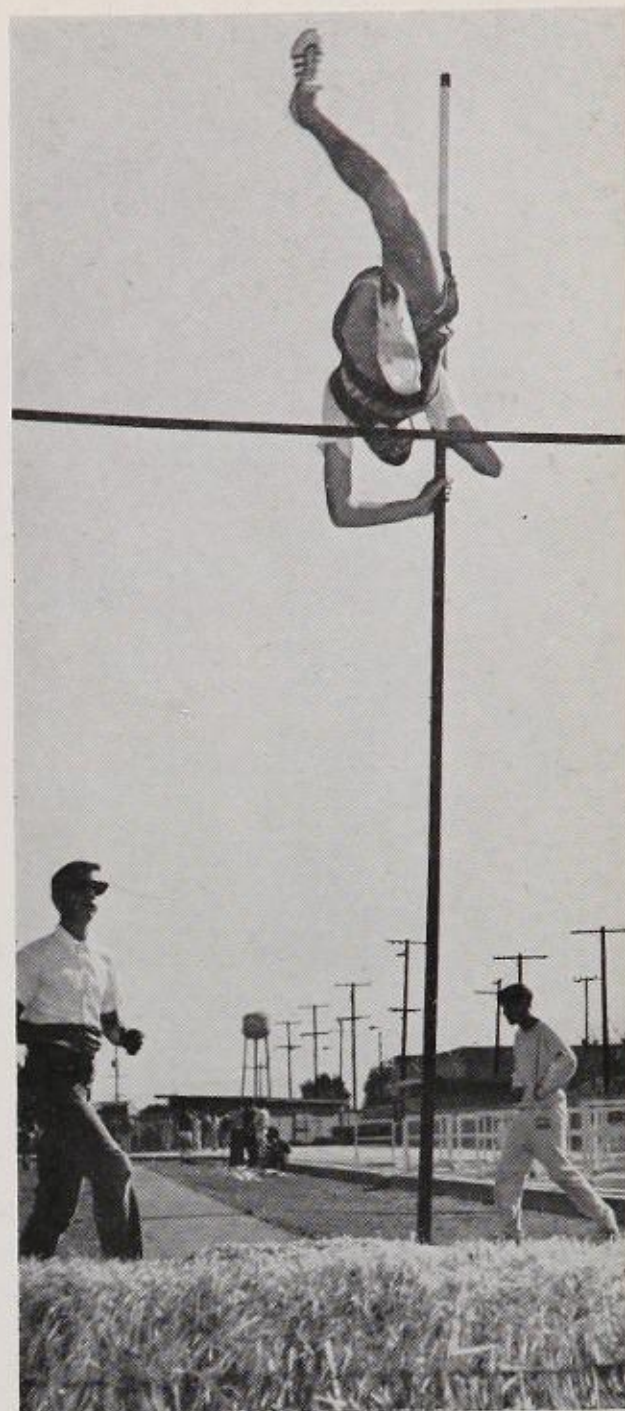

Will he make it? Ken Kimes looks n in "puzzlement" as Captain Roger Lent tries to score another tally for the Cee's.

At the time the El Molino went to press, both the varsity and JV baseball teams were on top in Bay League standings. Both teams boasted a fantastic 12-2 record and were in high gear for their final opponents, North and Santa Monica. The varsity squad is a team of seniors, all of them outstanding players, out to win. Not to be outdone, the JV future varsity men racked up a .310 team batting average to burn up the diamond on their way to the top.

Tennis, anyone? But tennis is only one of the many sports offered by the Girls' Athletic Association. Hawthorne co-eds can take their pick of a great variety of sports, activities designed for physical and mental alertness and general well-being. These girls are long standing devotees of the nation's program of "vigah."

The Faculty

It's coffee break for Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Simonek. Mr. Wade remains ever the individualist, however. He lines up with "those who think young."

*Best wishes from all future endurers
Sincerely,
David Hunter*

"This is the way we do it in the homemaking classes—" Miss Saal demonstrates the "gracious coffee break" to Mr. Clark and Mr. Hoy.

Have car . . . will travel. This is the slogan of Mr. Bell, Mr. Haueter, and Mr. Craig—especially around 3:13.

Popcorn has a fatal fascination even for the teachers. Mr. Molitor and Mr. Fix find it necessary to discipline Mr. Panella as he cuts in line for his favorite snack.

Safety is their motto. It's the driver education team of Mr. Miyashiro, Mr. Townsend, Mr. Davies, and Mr. Jack.

Come on, Mrs. Mark and Mrs. Kircher. Don't let those dunce caps held by Miss Pinchot and Mrs. Corliss fool you. You don't need them for your brilliant students!

Our patterns of learning include materials, ideas, and people. Among the most indispensable people is the large group of faculty members who daily inhabit Hawthorne High School.

"Halt! In the name of the faculty; and show your hall passes!" cries Mr. Edwards as he catches up with three campus "wanderers." Better luck next time, girls.

Teachers come in all sizes and shapes; they may be blonde, brunette, redhead, or variable; they range in age from young to — young as you feel. Whatever their differences, however, they all have one common desire to help the HHS students attain useful and valuable knowledge.

They Enjoy

Miss Imes insists that failure notices are a universal language, as Mr. Erlinger beseeches her to give them to football players, not basketball stars.

Mrs. Clayton seems to think that it's useless to try to get Bugs Bunny and Donald Duck to sing. But you never know until you try. Right, Mr. Wing?

Ever get that "anchored down" feeling? Ever feel overworked? The poor soul who belonged at this desk never had a chance!

Their Work

"Let me entertain you!" quips Mr. Repashy, as Mr. Pizarro patiently submits to between-class tortures. But doesn't everyone want a free lesson on the genuine way to "rock the cradle"? It's not easy to get an A in Yo-Yo I.

Like most men, Mr. Cracciolo and Mr. Liles are constantly amazed at the amount of "stuff" a woman can pack into a handbag. Mrs. Duffy is amused at their bewilderment, while Mr. Nivolo ignores them and signs in for work—of all things!

Take five! Mr. Orrell and Mr. Margaritis rest under a shade tree. A "south of the border" break helps in a hectic teaching schedule.

The glory and honor of HHS has been upheld. Mrs. Bachman made the fifty mile hike!

Test Tubes, Books, Bats

Economical transportation from one class to another is shared by Mr. Oster, Mrs. Cable, Mr. Hustled, and Miss Sasashima. It helps in getting to meetings too!

"I tell you the 'Unicameral Rock' will be a great hit!" Mr. Means plays his latest refrain for a pensive Mr. Hamilton.

Cutting in line, eh? The position of this student is a rather unfavorable one. Just ask Mr. Chauncey, Mr. Pappa, and Mr. Grahamer.

Tools Of The Trade

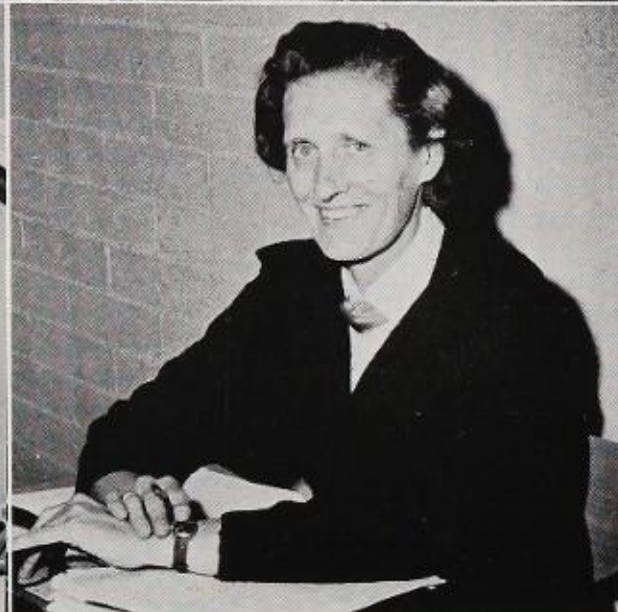

Now all English students should write ten essays, two term papers, read five books, and do two hours of homework every night—English teachers Miss Cone, Mrs. Jensen, and Mr. McGrorty plotting.

Coach Jones offers proof that the age of chivalry lives on at HHS. It's obvious that Mrs. Smith enjoys such red carpet treatment.

Both Miss Dykton and Mr. Bunyard have that far-away "I'm dreaming of vacation" look in their eyes. Faculty members enjoy getting away from it all; and as June comes into view, they become as restless as the students.

Do you really know what's wrong with that car, Mr. Mitchell? Your happy smile belies any really serious trouble. That other friendly smile belongs to Miss Clark of the English department. These two people must like their work!

Many Varied Personalities

Mr. Kirkpatrick has a watchful eye trained on Coaches Semon and Balaam. As head of the English department, he has an important question to ask: "I know the baseball team is leading the Bay League; I know they can hit; I know all that. My question is—can they also conjugate verbs, punctuate sentences, and write essays?"

What! No return! Usually Mr. Heisner is watching those political returns, but this time it's different. Could you claim conspiracy in restraint of trade, Mr. H?

Blend Into A Single Staff

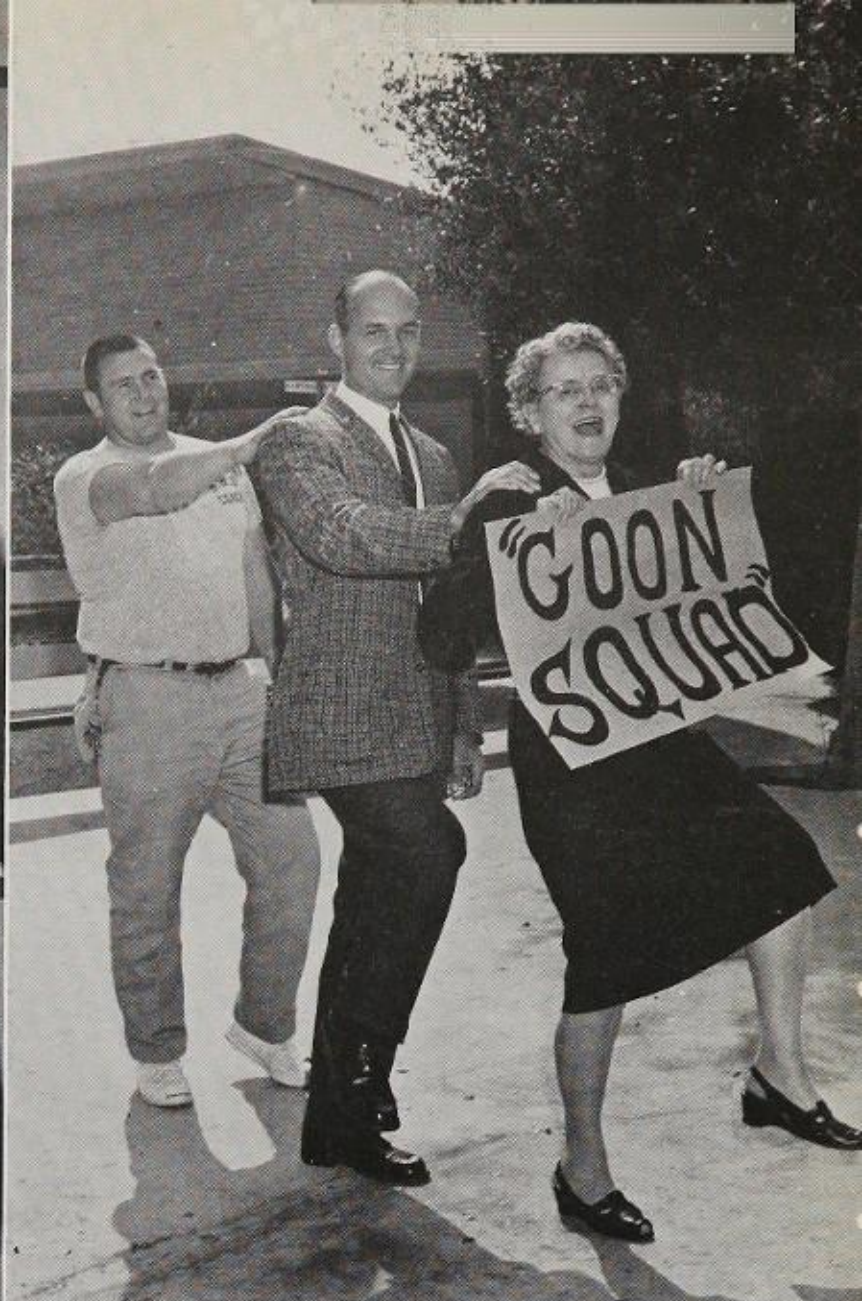

Remember those rainy days on campus when we swam to class, arriving drenched and miserable? Mrs. Bachman, Mr. Reynolds, and Mr. Pendleton are prepared for such occasions. So, of course, the sun shines.

Mr. Graves and Mrs. Roth discuss problems of furnishings and interior decoration. Mrs. Roth has just furnished a new house, and she truly appreciates the beautiful workmanship of the projects done in woodshop.

Mr. Williams displays some of his students' prize winning art work to Miss Likins and Mrs. Cameron. Under his outstanding leadership, our art students have captured an enviable share of prizes.

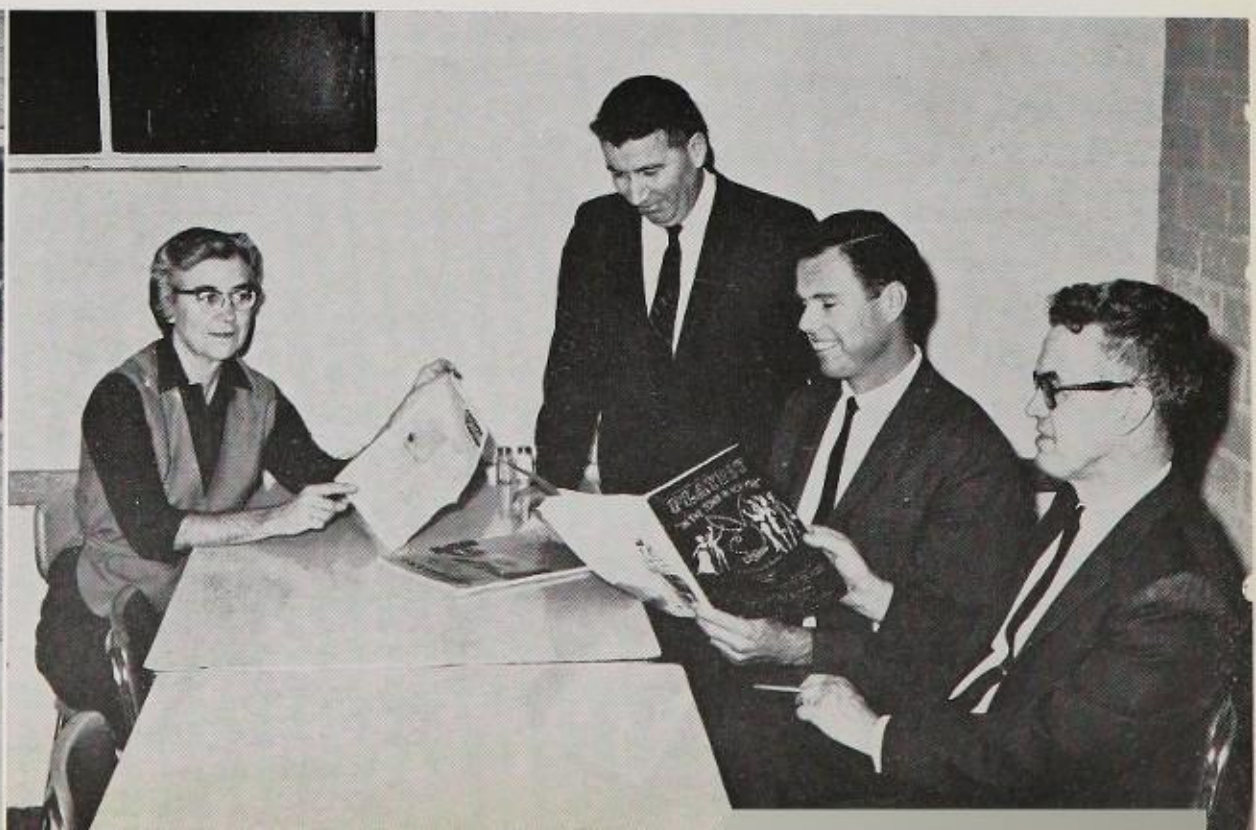

Shape up or ship out: Even in his out-of-class hours, Mr. Sevier never forgets his great innovation—the goon squad. Mrs. Owens and Mr. Ferguson are his unfortunate victims this time.

In their goal to make Hawthorne High the best of all schools, the Cougar faculty has worked unceasingly to evolve a curriculum that is comprehensive in scope and intensive in depth.

These two don't see much of the campus. Mr. Chaffey "hides" in the print shop most of the time, while Mrs. Murrin teaches the homebound.

Mr. Bennett, Mr. Ormondroyd, and Mr. Lordi may think that magazines are great these days, but Miss McGinty still prefers her COUGAR.

Persuasive Inspiration

The talents of our faculty range far and wide. Witness the evidence here demonstrated by Miss Booth, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Gaier.

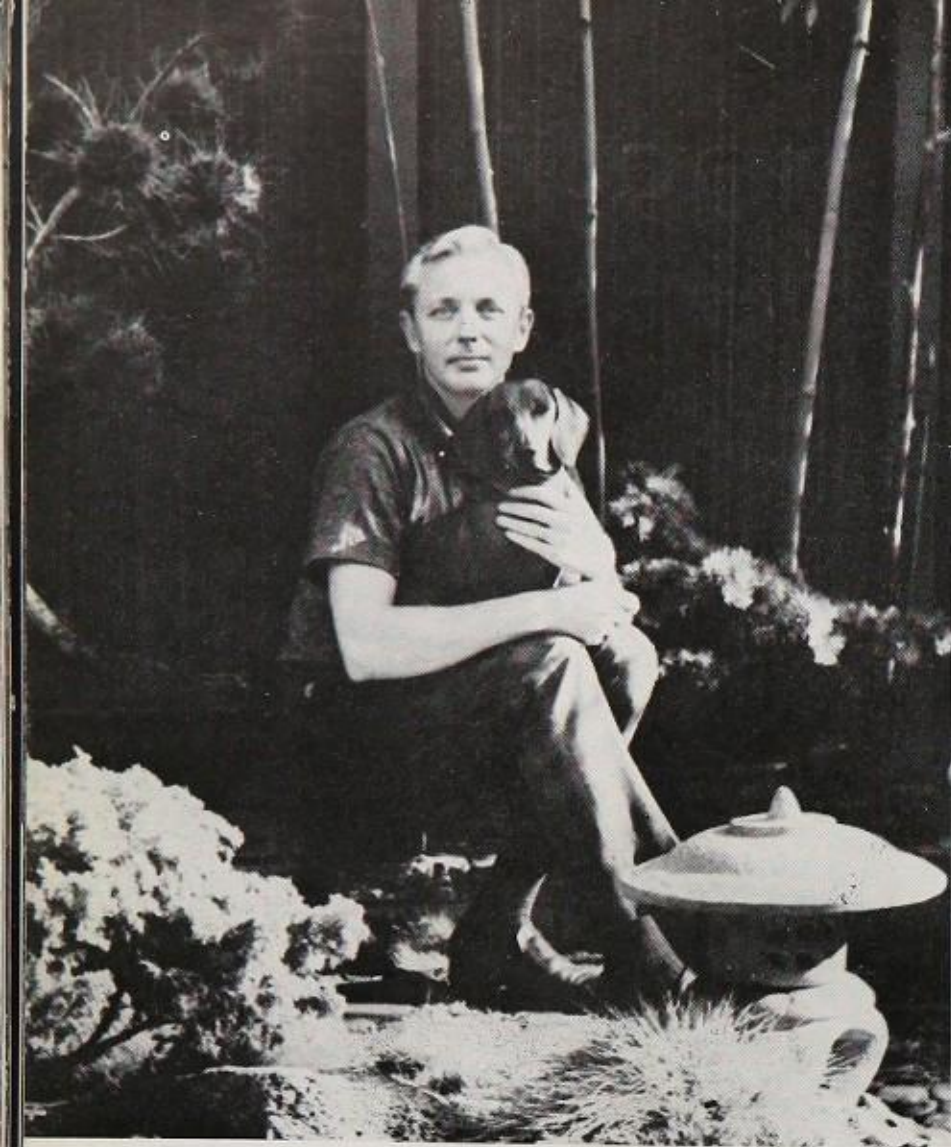

Out of this pattern has come a two-fold development: a strong program of reading, writing, arithmetic, and science; and specialized programs in accelerated math and science, a new concept in team teaching, and a highly successful seminar class.

Mrs. Bartholomew crowns Mr. Andrews undisputed "King of the Coffee Hounds."

Even with all the modern aids offered by the language lab, Miss Zalowski despairs of Mr. Morgan's ever learning Russian.

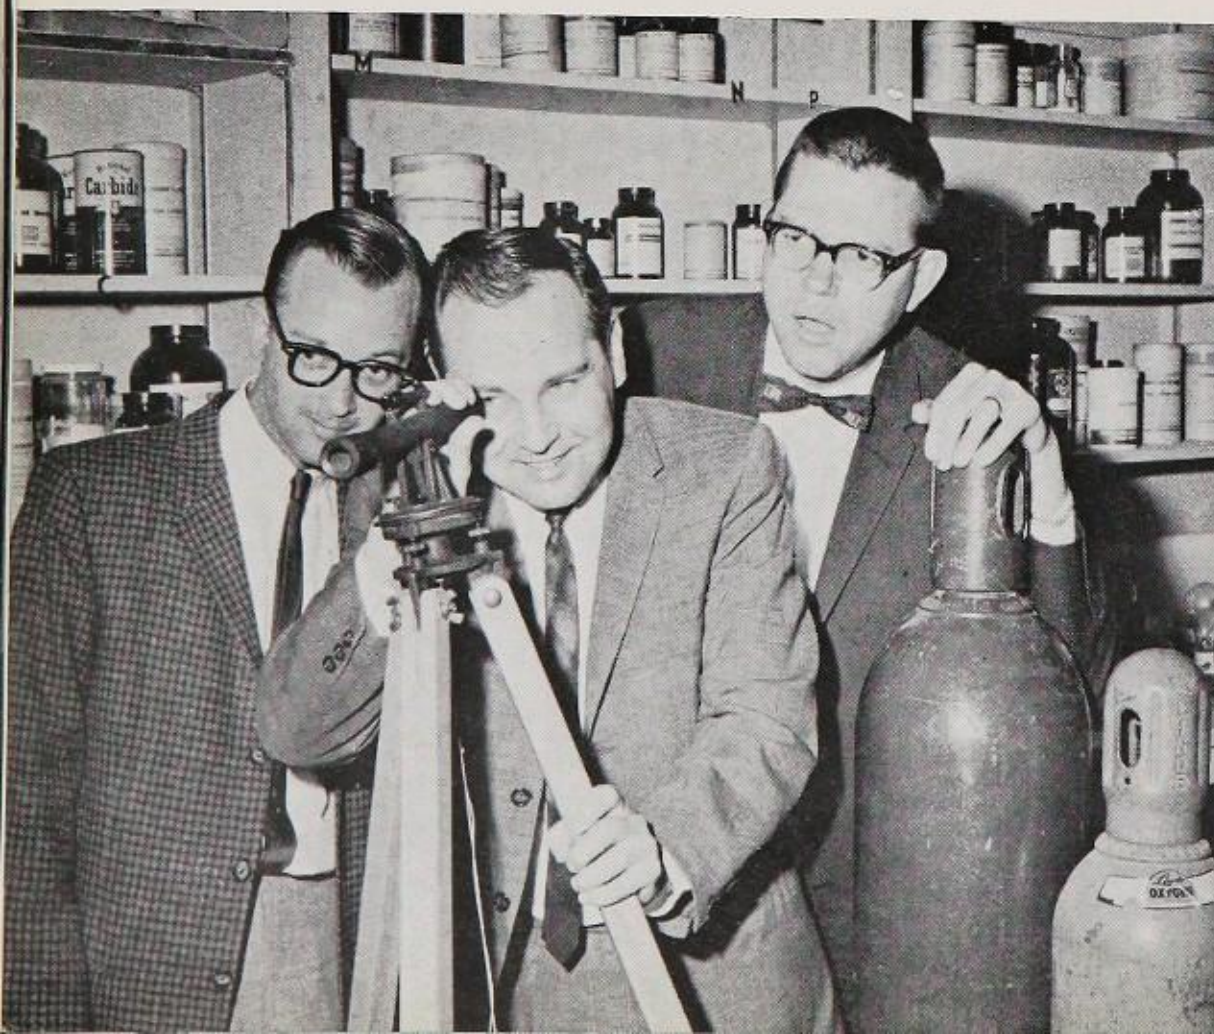

Mr. Goodfellow and friend enjoy a quiet moment amidst the beautiful surroundings of an oriental garden. The friend's name is Mr. Thurber; the garden is the result of Mr. Goodfellow's interest in bonsai culture.

Slump? What slump? Business is better than ever at the student store. Mr. Harrison counts the sheckels and prepares for a trip to the bank.

If that expression on Mr. Silcox's face is indicative of anything, the sighting these three are taking must be terrific! Ah, Mr. Kyllonen, please. Mr. Allen would like his turn now.

Well, really now! How could I have dropped that stitch? I'll just knit an extra one in the next row to make up for it.

Off To A Good Vacation

Mr. Harvey, dreaming of flying, smiles happily, little realizing that disaster hangs overhead. Mr. Plum and Mr. Ashley are in on Mr. Hall's little joke, but they won't tell. Sometimes it's safer in a plane than on the HHS campus.

Hawthorne is proud of its very fine language lab—with justification. Mr. Garza, head of the language department, planned the entire set-up. Here he discusses it with Mr. Bravo and Miss Cooper.

And So To Summer . . .

Here is your 1963 EL MOLINO. We hope you like it. But, in case you do not, there are no refunds given at this late date! We could say the usual trite remarks—"We worked very hard, etc., etc., etc." But we prefer not to do so. The world is already cluttered with banalities; we will not compound the felony.

However, before we say goodbye, there are certain people we would like to thank in all sincerity and with deep gratitude.

MR. HALL and his photography classes . . .

The S. K. SMITH COVER COMPANY . . .

MR. WILLIAMS for special art work . . .

HAP BYERS of the Byers Studios . . .

SOL LEVY of the Southland Press . . . we enjoyed your hospitality!

TONY LOYA of the Loya Studios . . . the lunch was delicious

JACK CANNICOTT of the Los Angeles Engraving Company . . . we couldn't have done it without you.

MR. GOODFELLOW for the opening section and the division pages . . .

to say "thank you" seems scarcely enough, but it comes from deep within our hearts.

And so—farewell from,

THE 1963 EL MOLINO STAFF

Joan
I wish you the best of luck
